Definitions

6. In this Notice of Exemption:

Characterisation means sampling and testing that must be conducted on the electric arc ladle furnace slag for the range of chemicals and other attributes listed in Column 1 of Table 2.

Composite sample means a sample that combines 5 discrete sub-samples into a single sample for the purpose of analysis.

Consumer means a person who applies, causes, or permits the application to land of electric arc ladle furnace slag within the definitions of “application to land” in accordance with the Act. The consumer may be the landholder responsible for the land to which electric arc ladle furnace slag is applied. Where a person responsible for transporting the electric arc ladle furnace slag to the land application site is also the party applying the electric arc ladle furnace slag, this person must also meet the responsibilities of the consumer.

Electric arc ladle furnace slag is the waste of the steelmaking process that is formed during ladle furnace and casting operations. Ladle slag is a mixture of molten oxides and silicates that provides an insulating layer on top of the liquid steel in the ladle. When casting has been completed the liquid slag is allowed to cool and solidify. Electric arc ladle furnace slag does not include any bag house dust or air pollution control residues.

Generator means a person who generates, supplies, causes, or permits the supply of electric arc ladle furnace slag to a processor or consumer. The generator may also be the processor.

NA means not applicable.

Once-off sampling means sampling and testing that must be conducted only once on a batch, truckload or stockpile of electric arc ladle furnace slag that is not repeated, reproduced and does not form part of a continuous process.

Processor means a person who processes, mixes, blends, or otherwise incorporates electric arc ladle furnace slag into a material for supply to a consumer.

Routine sampling means sampling and testing that must be conducted on the electric arc ladle furnace slag on an ongoing and regular basis.

Relevant waste means electric arc ladle furnace slag that meets the requirements of Section 7.

Notes

The EPA may amend or revoke this exemption at any time. It is the responsibility of the generator, processor and consumer to ensure that they comply with all relevant requirements of the most current exemption. The current version of an exemption will be available on the EPA website: www.environment.nsw.gov.au

In gazetting this general exemption, the EPA is exempting the relevant waste from the specific requirements of the Act and Regulations as stated in this exemption. The EPA is not in any way endorsing the use of this substance or guaranteeing that the substance will confer benefit.

The EPA may grant specific exemptions in certain circumstances in recognition of intellectual property rights or where it is necessary to impose specific conditions on the use or application of a waste.

The use of exempted material remains subject to other relevant environmental regulations within the Act and Regulations. For example, a person who pollutes land (s142A) or water (s120), or does not meet the special requirements for asbestos waste (clause 42), regardless of having an exemption, is guilty of an offence and subject to prosecution.

For the purposes of arrangements between a generator, a processor and a consumer, a 'transaction' is taken to mean the contractual agreement between the two parties which specifies the exchange of waste material from one party to another. A 'statement of compliance' must be in writing and be provided with each transaction.

The conditions set out in this exemption are designed to minimise the risk of potential harm to the environment, human health or agriculture, however, neither this exemption nor these conditions guarantee that the environment, human health or agriculture will not be harmed.

The consumer should assess whether or not the exempted material is fit for the purpose the material is proposed to be used and whether this use will cause harm. The consumer may need to seek expert engineering or technical advice.

This exemption does not apply to any material received at a premises that is required to be licensed for waste disposal (application to land) activities under the provisions of the Act. This exemption does not remove the need for a site at which processing occurs to be licensed, if required under Schedule 1 of the Act.

This exemption does not alter the requirements of any other relevant legislation that must be met in utilising this material, including for example, the need to prepare a Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS).

Regardless of any exemption provided by the EPA, the person who causes or permits the application of the substance to land must ensure that the action is lawful and consistent with the development consent requirements of the land.

All records required to be kept under this exemption must be made available to authorised officers of the EPA upon request.

Failure to comply with the conditions of this Notice of Exemption may constitute an offence under clause 51 of the Regulation and the responsible person will be required to comply with the normal regulatory provisions.

- 10.2. The coal ash must not be applied in or beneath water including groundwater.
- 10.3. The consumer should note that regardless of having an exemption, the use of coal ash remains subject to all other relevant environmental regulations within the Act and Regulations, including but not limited to land pollution (s142A) and water pollution (s120).
- 10.4. The consumer must land apply the relevant waste within a reasonable period of time.

Chemical and other material property requirements

11. This Notice of Exemption only applies to coal ash where the chemical and other attributes listed in Column 1 of Table 2 comply with the chemical concentrations and other values listed in Column 2, Column 3 and Column 4 of Table 2, when analysed according to test methods specified in Column 5 of Table 2. Note that while limits are not included for electrical conductivity, this must be tested in each sample and records kept of results.

Notes

The EPA may amend or revoke this exemption at any time. It is the responsibility of the generator, processor and consumer to ensure that they comply with all relevant requirements of the most current exemption. The current version of an exemption will be available on the EPA website: www.environment.nsw.gov.au

In gazetting this general exemption, the EPA is exempting the relevant waste from the specific requirements of the Act and Regulations as stated in this exemption. The EPA is not in any way endorsing the use of this substance or guaranteeing that the substance will confer benefit.

The EPA may grant specific exemptions in certain circumstances in recognition of intellectual property rights or where it is necessary to impose specific conditions on the use or application of a waste.

The use of exempted material remains subject to other relevant environmental regulations within the Act and Regulations. For example, a person who pollutes land (s142A) or water (s120), or does not meet the special requirements for asbestos waste (clause 42), regardless of having an exemption, is guilty of an offence and subject to prosecution.

For the purposes of arrangements between a generator, a processor and a consumer, a 'transaction' is taken to mean the contractual agreement between the two parties which specifies the exchange of waste material from one party to another. A 'statement of compliance' must be in writing and be provided with each transaction.

The conditions set out in this exemption are designed to minimise the risk of potential harm to the environment, human health or agriculture, however, neither this exemption nor these conditions guarantee that the environment, human health or agriculture will not be harmed.

The consumer should assess whether or not the exempted material is fit for the purpose the material is proposed to be used and whether this use will cause harm. The consumer may need to seek expert engineering or technical advice.

This exemption does not apply to any material received at a premises that is required to be licensed for waste disposal (application to land) activities under the provisions of the Act. This exemption does not remove the need for a site at which processing occurs to be licensed, if required under Schedule 1 of the Act.

This exemption does not alter the requirements of any other relevant legislation that must be met in utilising this material, including for example, the need to prepare a Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS).

Regardless of any exemption provided by the EPA, the person who causes or permits the application of the substance to land must ensure that the action is lawful and consistent with the development consent requirements of the land.

All records required to be kept under this exemption must be made available to authorised officers of the EPA upon request.

Failure to comply with the conditions of this Notice of Exemption may constitute an offence under clause 51 of the Regulation and the responsible person will be required to comply with the normal regulatory provisions.
