Welcome to the 2015 NSW Seniors Directory

The NSW Government values the contributions made by senior citizens and the 2015 NSW Seniors Directory aims to encourage you to continue playing an active role in the NSW community.

In 2015, we recognise the challenges we face to accommodate the needs of an ageing population. We are preparing to address these issues as well as opportunities we expect will arise along the way.

We want to ensure NSW remains a safe place where seniors feel valued and respected. To do so, the NSW Government regularly consults the Ministerial Advisory Committee on Ageing for feedback on our policies and ideas.

Our community functions better thanks to the contributions made by our seniors, whether that be through family support and caring, community action, volunteering, and increasingly through continued paid work. When senior citizens are active and involved in community life, everyone benefits. There is also evidence to suggest that being actively engaged has a positive impact on your health and wellbeing.

One way the NSW Government supports your engagement in community life is through the Seniors Card. It provides cheaper public transport, discounts across a range of goods and activities, and connects seniors to the growing Seniors Card community.

We hope you find the 2015 NSW Seniors Directory valuable in accessing the wide range of opportunities it contains as you enjoy the year ahead.

Welcome to the 2015 edition of the Seniors Directory

The NSW Government, community groups and businesses all play a role in ensuring seniors can lead active, fulfilling lives in their communities. Seniors Card is one of the key ways in which the NSW Government and its partners work together to achieve this.

Alongside Seniors Week, Seniors Christmas Concerts and Grandparents Day, the NSW Seniors Card is one of the ways the NSW Government supports your continued involvement in the community.

Seniors Card is our most widely-used service for NSW residents over 60. The NSW Government's Ageing Strategy aims to see more people in NSW experience the benefits of living longer, and I hope that your NSW Seniors Card helps you achieve this.

The 2015 Seniors Directory is your guide to discounts and special offers from hundreds of participating businesses. We have also included information for you from several government departments about housing, transport, and online safety tips.

We hope you find the 2015 NSW Seniors Directory a valuable and useful resource for making the most of your NSW Seniors Card.

About the Office for Ageing

“NSW’s population is ageing. By 2050 the number of people aged 65 and over will more than double.”
NSW Ageing Strategy July 2012

The Government’s vision for ageing is that people in NSW experience the benefits of living longer. More people will enjoy later life if:

- Seniors lead active and rewarding lives and are valued members of the community
- Adults make decisions that support their independence and wellbeing later in life
- NSW responds effectively to the challenges and opportunities of population ageing.

Today, people who reach the age of 65 have the opportunity to enjoy more years of healthy, active living than any generation before them. Active living means people are more likely to maintain good health and wellbeing for longer. People in the middle of their lives, often their forties and fifties, can also enjoy longer lives and the decisions they make directly affect their later years.

Population ageing is creating social and economic opportunities and challenges. Older people are a source of knowledge and expertise and a powerful economic force. NSW needs to respond to increased demand on government services, particularly in the health system and our success will in part depend on how well we respond to the opportunities and challenges of an ageing population. The NSW Ageing Strategy is a whole of government and a whole of community strategy which supports individuals to take responsibility for their futures and commits government to recognise and remove barriers to continued participation.

About Seniors Card

2015 will mark the 23rd year of the NSW Seniors Card program. It continues to thrive, with over 1 million members and over 3,000 businesses offering special offers and discounts.

The Seniors Card program was established to encourage retired and semi-retired seniors in NSW to be active and healthy in all areas of their lives. This goal was emphasised in the 2012 NSW Ageing Strategy.

This directory is your guide to concessions, discounts, and special offers from hundreds of participating businesses.

Who is eligible for a Seniors Card?

To hold a NSW Seniors Card, you must be:

- 60 years of age or over;
- A permanent resident of NSW; and
- Working no more than 20 paid hours per week.

How to apply for a Seniors Card

Applying for a Seniors Card has never been easier. Complete the application form which is available on the website www.seniorscard.nsw.gov.au or alternatively phone 13 77 88 to complete your application over the phone with Service NSW.

How to use the directory

The NSW Seniors Directory is a “go to” reference guide for seniors containing information on consumer rights, financial and legal issues and an array of discounts and offers made available by participating businesses to Senior Card holders. There are five 2015 regional directories:

- Sydney & Surrounds,
- Central Coast & Hunter,

- Southern NSW,
- Northern NSW
- Western NSW

All five Seniors Directories are available online at www.seniorcard.nsw.gov.au

When visiting the website, you can also subscribe to EXTRA, the NSW Seniors Card email newsletter. EXTRA subscribers are the first to receive information on special offers and competitions, as well as articles on health, travel, gardening, and cooking.

You can also download our Seniors Card NSW phone app available from the iTunes store or Google play. Simply search for 'Seniors card NSW' in your app store or scan the below codes with a QR reader.

Getting value from your card

The best way to get value from your Seniors Card is to use the card as often as you can. Keep the Seniors Directory handy so that you can readily find all those local participating businesses that offer savings whenever and whatever you happen to be doing.

Seniors Card shopping tips

- Look for 'Seniors Card welcome here' sign (see below), which is displayed by many participating businesses.
- Ask for the normal quoted price before asking for the Seniors Card discount.
- Ask for the Seniors Card discount.
- Present your Seniors Card at the time of booking or prior to making a payment. Most participating businesses will not give a Seniors Card discount once a transaction or service has been completed.
- Shop around and compare prices before making a purchase – Seniors Card does not guarantee the best price. Your item may be cheaper elsewhere.
- If you shop at a participating business which does not display a "Seniors Card Welcome Here" feel free to recommend to the business that Seniors Card are happy to provide a sign such that more seniors will be encouraged to make purchases.
- If you know of a business that doesn't yet offer a Seniors Card discount, encourage them to join the Seniors Card program as a participating business. They can do this by calling 13 77 88 or visiting to the Seniors Card website www.seniorcard.nsw.gov.au.

Terms & Conditions

The discount offers listed in this Directory are valid to 30 November 2015, unless otherwise indicated. Seniors Card discounts cannot be used in conjunction with any other offer (unless otherwise stated). The discounts listed in this directory apply only to Seniors Card members. They do not apply to family members or friends.

A participating business can withdraw from the program at any time and therefore is not required to provide a listed discount in this Directory. If you notice an offer on the Seniors Card website that a business is no longer honouring, then please contact the Seniors Card information centre at 13 77 88. Seniors Card will then contact the participating business to ensure that listings are kept up to date.

Participating Businesses

The NSW Government acknowledges the high level of participation by businesses in support of the NSW Seniors Card program. Many new businesses join the program each month.

The monthly members' eNewsletter identifies new participating members and their offers.

For more information or to obtain a business application form, please visit www.seniorcard.nsw.gov.au, email business@seniorcard.nsw.gov.au or call 13 77 88.

Seniors Week 2015

I encourage you connect with your community and celebrate ageing through art, sport, music, entertainment, technology, recreation, health and good nutrition. Be inspired, visit www.nswseniorsweek.com.au.

Introducing the new Gold Senior/Pensioner Opal card

NSW Seniors Card holders are eligible to start travelling with the Gold Senior/Pensioner Opal card. The $2.50 paper Pensioner Excursion Tickets are still available, but choosing to switch to Opal gives you the same $2.50 unlimited travel plus lots more.

Transport made easy

Opal is a reusable smartcard, similar in size to a credit card. You only need to get your Opal card once. Instead of buying a paper ticket, you load value onto your Opal card to pay for your travel. And if you choose to set your Opal card to auto top up, when your card value gets low it automatically tops up – like an e-tag in your pocket.

Unlimited travel for $2.50 a day

Gold Senior/Pensioner Opal card fares are capped at $2.50 a day*. So you never pay more than the current Pensioner Excursion Ticket. And sometimes you can pay less.

Excludes Sydney Airport Station Access Fee.*

Safe and secure

With a registered card, if you happen to lose it, or it gets stolen, your balance is protected and can be transferred to a new card.

How to apply

You can apply online or over the phone. Just make sure you have your NSW Seniors Card handy to confirm your eligibility. The Gold Senior/Pensioner Opal card is also available to Pensioner concession card holders and NSW War Widows.

Visit opal.com.au or call 13 67 25 (13 OPAL)

How to get your Opal card

$2.50 Pensioner Excursion Ticket (PET)

If you prefer you can use continue to use a PET. A PET is a paper ticket offering unlimited same-day travel in the Sydney metropolitan area and further afield, including Newcastle, the Lower Hunter, the Central Coast, the Blue Mountains, Lithgow and the Illawarra on trains, participating buses, light rail, and Sydney and Newcastle ferry services.

You can purchase half-fare concession MyZone tickets if they give you better value than a PET.

How to purchase:

- Purchase before travel from Transport Shops, train and ferry ticket offices, and resellers – look for the MyZone/PrePay flag.
- Also available on privately operated buses (but not State Transit buses in Sydney).

Big savings on Regional travel

$2.50 Regional Excursion Daily (RED)

All-day travel on local bus services in rural and regional areas. If more than one operator provides services within a local network, a RED ticket lets you change buses without paying another fare. If the local bus service starts in a regional area and goes into a metropolitan or outer metropolitan area, please purchase a ticket to use on metropolitan train, bus, ferry and light rail services.

How to purchase:

- Available on participating buses.

$2.50 Country Pensioner Excursion (CPE)

A NSW TrainLink Country Pensioner Excursion ticket allows you to book a one-way train or coach ticket between NSW TrainLink Regional destinations for just $2.50. Please note that travel limits apply.

How to purchase:

- Book up to 7 days in advance at Regional stations with a NSW TrainLink ticket office, visit nswtrainlink.info, or call 13 22 32 (TTY 133 677).
- Not available for interstate travel or travel into Sydney, Newcastle or Wollongong CBD and Intercity destinations.

Pensioners-only free train travel

Living in a boarding house?

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

Laws now protect people living in boarding houses in NSW.

These laws provide for:

- better living conditions at the boarding house
- written occupancy agreements
- fairer security deposit requirements
- notice of house rules and rent increases
- written receipts for all payments to the boarding house
- assistance from the NSW Civil and Administrative Tribunal (NCAT) with boarding house disputes.

For more details about the new laws protecting people living in boarding houses, call 13 32 20 or visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au

What is an occupancy agreement?

An occupancy agreement is a written contract between you and the boarding house. Boarding house operators are legally required to enter into a written occupancy agreement with you. If they don't, your rights are still protected by law and you can enforce them. Always ask for a written agreement to help you better understand your rights and responsibilities.

Boarding house register

A new public register allows you to search for all 'general' and 'assisted' boarding houses in NSW. To find out what a 'registrable' boarding house is and to view the public register of boarding houses, visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au or call 13 32 20.

Consumer tip

You can now lodge requests with the NCAT for assistance with unresolved disputes between you and a boarding house operator. Call 1300 006 228 or visit www.ncat.nsw.gov.au to find out more.

What is a boarding house?

A boarding house, or lodging house, provides accommodation for a fee. Boarding house residents don't have the same control over the premises as tenants on a lease do. Often, residents only have the right to occupy a room and to share facilities such as kitchens and bathrooms.

Moving into a retirement village

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

Moving into a retirement village is a lifestyle and investment choice. Shop around, compare costs and read everything before you sign.

There are many things to consider before deciding to move into a retirement village. Discuss your decision with family, friends and advisors. Inspect a range of villages where you wish to live. Ask lots of questions. Make sure you fully understand the contract and seek advice from a solicitor with expertise in retirement village law before signing any contract.

Making the right choice

When you are making the decision to move into a retirement village, an operator must provide you with the following documents for you to read carefully:

Which document?	When must it be provided?
General inquiry document	When you make an initial village inquiry.
Disclosure statement	When you make an inquiry into a particular unit within a village, at least 14 days before entering into a village contract.
Standard retirement village contract	At least 14 days before entering into a village the contract.

Retirement village register

A new public register allows you to search for retirement villages in your area. Visit the Accommodations registers page at www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au

Top tip

Did you know that when you buy into a retirement village, you may not own the unit you live in? Check the documents listed in the table above to find out which arrangement applies to the unit you are interested in.

More details

The Fair Trading Moving into a retirement village? brochure has information about your rights plus a checklist of questions to consider when choosing a village.

My shopping rights

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

The Australian Consumer Law guarantees your rights when you buy goods and services – including your rights to repairs, replacements and refunds. These rights, called consumer guarantees, apply even if you don't have a warranty or an extended warranty.

Consumer guarantees

Suppliers and manufacturers must guarantee that goods you buy:

- are safe, lasting and of acceptable quality
- are fit for their intended purpose
- match the description, sample or demonstration model
- do all the things that someone would normally expect them to do
- have repair facilities and spare parts reasonably available.

The law takes into account the type of product and cost. If goods fail to meet a guarantee, the seller you purchased them from, and in some cases the manufacturer, must offer you a remedy such as replacement, refund or repair. A seller can't avoid dealing with the problem by saying it is the manufacturer's responsibility.

Refund, repair or exchange

You may choose to get a refund, repair or exchange if the item you bought has a major problem, such as:

- it is unsafe or faulty
- it doesn't do the job it is supposed to do
- it is different to the sample or description you saw
- you wouldn't have bought it if you knew about the problem.

If the product has a minor fault and can be fixed, the seller may decide if you get a refund, repair or exchange. The seller does not have to give you a refund, repair or exchange a product if:

- you change your mind, you do not like the colour or it is the wrong size
- you damage it by not following the instructions or using it incorrectly
- you were aware of a fault before you bought it.

'No refunds' signs

These signs misrepresent your rights and are illegal, eg. 'No refunds after 7 days' or 'We will exchange or repair or give credit notes but we do not refund'. Call 13 32 20 or visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au for details.

FIGHT OSTEOARTHRITIS INFLAMMATION with superior CURCUMIN extract

Curcumin, the active ingredient in turmeric, has powerful anti-inflammatory properties and can help reduce the joint pain and swelling of osteoarthritis. The trouble is, curcumin alone is poorly absorbed by the body.

Curcumin Anti-Inflammatory Pain Reliever from Australian NaturalCare contains the superior Meriva curcumin extract which is made using a unique technology to combine the curcumin with phospholipids. Phospholipids act like little 'delivery trucks' for the curcumin, which means it is absorbed twice as fast and 29 times better than curcumin alone.

In recent clinical trials* people with osteoarthritis who took the Meriva extract of curcumin, found they could walk over twice as far on a treadmill test as those who took a standard extract. They also reported that it was significantly easier to go about their daily lives compared to those who received the standard treatment.

Absorbed
twice as fast
and 29 times better than curcumin alone

Curcumin Anti-Inflammatory Pain Reliever may help to:

- Improve mobility in people who suffer from osteoarthritis
- Reduce the joint pain, swelling and inflammation of osteoarthritis and mild rheumatoid arthritis

Online shopping

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

The internet can be a very convenient way to shop. Knowing a few simple tips and precautions can keep you safe while shopping online.

Online shopping safety tips

Before buying anything online you should:

- beware of offers that are 'too good to be true'
- never respond to unsolicited email offers or spam
- check the seller's phone number and address details
- check any 'feedback' about the seller, to assess their reputation
- check the freight or delivery methods and costs
- check refund, warranty and return policies
- check if the payment page has a padlock or begins with <https://> before paying
- avoid unknown sellers who ask you to pay by bank transfer or money transfer service before you receive the goods
- consider paying by credit card as you may be able to get a chargeback if things go wrong
- never give your personal bank details or password
- save a copy of your order before you send it.

Buying from an overseas website?

If you buy from an overseas seller, Australian Consumer Law (ACL) may not apply or may only offer you limited protection. Be sure to:

- check currency exchange rates
- check with Australian Customs if it is legal to import the goods
- include any import duties, taxes, handling, freight and insurance costs when making a price comparison.

Top tip

The ACL applies when buying from Australian businesses, whether buying online or a physical store. For more details, download the Safe online shopping tips fact sheet from www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au or call 13 32 20.

Living in a residential community

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

Living in a residential community generally involves leasing a site on land for permanent occupation. They may be known as residential parks, caravan parks or manufactured home estates.

Unlike other traditional bricks and mortar housing options, when you live in a residential community you do not own the land upon which your home stands and you pay a fee on an ongoing basis to lease the site.

Residential communities may offer a relatively lower cost and maintenance housing alternative. While initial set-up costs might be lower than buying a strata unit, land or a house, there are other ongoing expenses you will need to pay on top of your site fees. These may include electricity, gas, telephone and water charges.

Top tip

Before buying into a residential community, take the time to discuss your decision with family, friends and advisers. Inspect a number of communities in the area you wish to live in. Ask lots of questions and talk to residents there.

Before you sign

There are specific laws that relate to this housing option. Before you sign an agreement, carefully read the information you are given and be clear about your rights and obligations from the start. Make sure you fully understand the agreement and think about getting legal and financial advice before you sign anything.

Register of residential communities

A public register allows you to search for residential communities in your area. Visit the Accommodations registers page at www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au

More details

For more information about living in a residential community and your rights, visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au or call 13 32 20.

The laws are changing

The NSW Government is replacing the Residential Parks Act 1998 with a new Act to improve the governance of residential parks. For details visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au or call 13 32 20.

Moving into a strata unit

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

Living in a strata scheme or community puts neighbours in relatively close proximity to each other. For first-time residents, the rules may be something of a culture shock.

A major difference between owning a house and a strata unit is that the unit's external walls, floor and roof do not usually belong to the unit owner. These are usually designated 'common property' that the owners corporation is responsible for maintaining and repairing. In effect, you own the inside of the unit but not the main structure of the building.

Some other features of living in a strata scheme are:

- you share ownership and responsibility for 'common property'
- if you own your unit, you are automatically a member of the 'owners corporation' which has responsibility for common property
- every 3 months you contribute to the cost of running the building through paying quarterly levies
- you pay money into a sinking fund, for future long term expenses such as painting the building or replacing guttering
- compared to a freestanding house, there will be lifestyle restrictions in a strata scheme, such as rules (by-laws) that:
 - may affect you renovating your unit
 - state where you can park your car
 - outline where you can dry washing
 - permit or ban pets.

The laws are changing

Building or renovating your home

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

Avoiding costly renovation headaches means being savvy about contracts, deposits, insurance, and employing licensed builders and tradespeople.

Licensed builders and tradies

Always use a licensed builder or tradesperson to get the job done. Ask for their licence number and visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au or call 13 32 20 to check if their licence is valid and appropriate for your work.

In NSW, licensing protects you in the following ways:

- you deal with a legitimate business
- the tradesperson has the right qualifications for the job
- you enjoy better consumer protection
- you help to keep the unscrupulous operators out.

The licence check will show you lots of background information about your choice of tradie, both current and historical.

Top tip

Specialist tradespeople must be licensed to do electrical wiring, plumbing, draining, gas-fitting, or air-conditioning work even for small jobs.

Contracts

It is always best to get a written contract and, depending on the value of the work, it may be legally required. Before you sign a contract worth over $5,000, the contractor must give you the Fair Trading Consumer building guide which contains important consumer information about home building and renovation work.

Top tip

Many older homes contain asbestos and other hazardous materials such as lead paint. Always get expert advice before dealing with these materials.

More details

Read about your rights when doing home building and renovation work, plus advice on selecting a tradesperson or builder at www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au or call 13 32 20.

Renting a home

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

When you rent a home, knowing your rights and responsibilities will help you avoid or resolve differences you may have with your landlord, real estate agent or neighbours.

Before you sign your tenancy agreement read it thoroughly. You are committing to a legally binding contract with no cooling-off period. If there is anything you don't understand, ask questions.

At the start of your tenancy, the landlord or agent must give you:

- the New tenant checklist available from www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au
- your lease (also called a tenancy agreement) with the rules for living in the rental home
- two copies of the premise's condition report for you to list any issues
- a bond lodgement form for you to sign, so the money can be lodged with Fair Trading
- keys to your new home.

Got a residential tenancy complaint?

We offer a free complaint service for tenants, residents, landlords and property managers with tenancy-related matters or disputes. Our experienced staff will talk you through the issues and can contact the other party to help negotiate an agreement. This service may be provided over the phone or onsite in your home or office. Visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au or call 13 32 20.

Buying a car and getting repairs

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

When buying a used car, inspect it thoroughly to identify problems and assess its value. It can also provide some leverage to negotiate a lower sale price.

Buying a car from a licensed dealer

There are some advantages of buying from a licensed dealership. Unlike buying privately, the dealer must guarantee that there is no money owing on the vehicle. The dealer must also provide a 3-month warranty on a used vehicle that is less than 10 years old and has travelled less than 160,000 km.

Buying a car privately

Buying a vehicle from a private owner involves relying on your own judgment and knowledge. Do a vehicle inspection but be aware that there are no statutory warranties. Make sure there's no money owing on the vehicle by doing a Personal Property Securities Register (PPSR) check yourself.

Always ask the seller for:

- the current certificate of registration
- a Pink Slip which is no more than 42 days old
- proof that the person selling the vehicle is the owner
- the registration number and engine number

You should find the VIN (Vehicle Identification Number) or chassis number on the vehicle and ensure these details match the paperwork.

More details

Visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au or call 13 32 20 for handy tips on buying, repairing and inspecting motor vehicles.

Something to avoid – roadside selling

There are no safeguards with this type of car sale. You could be stuck with a vehicle that has been poorly repaired or even written-off. No matter how good the bargain looks, steer clear.

Car maintenance and repairs

Repairers must be licensed and any work they do must be carried out with skill and care. Before you decide on a repairer:

- check they are licensed
- get a quote in writing
- ask to be contacted first if additional work needs to be done
- request an itemised account.

Avoiding scams

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

Scams are designed to trick you into giving away your money and personal details. To succeed, scams appeal to our needs, fears or desires and look like ‘the real thing’.

Everyone will be the target of a scam at some stage in their lives. Scams come in many forms and reach you in many ways – by mail, email, SMS, telephone and door-to-door. Be very wary of offers that arrive unexpectedly urging you to take quick action.

Did you know?

Research shows that 1 in 20 Australians fall victim to scams.

Top tip

If an offer sounds too good to be true, it usually is!

Protect yourself against scams by following these simple tips.

- Don't respond: Ignore suspicious emails, letters, house visits, phone calls or SMS – press ‘delete’, throw them out, shut the door or just hang up.
- Watch out for slick tricks: Scammers use sophisticated tricks to fool you such as fake websites, glossy brochures, technical jargon or posing as someone that you know and trust.
- Don't let scammers push your buttons: Scammers will play on your emotions to get what they want.
- Protect your identity: Your personal details are private and invaluable – be vigilant and keep them that way.

Stop travelling con men

Travelling con men move from place-to-place, often in groups, and put pressure on you to have work done on your house. They ask for cash up-front and often take the money and run, leaving the job unfinished or poorly done. If approached call the National Hotline on 1300 133 408.

Visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au for more tips, and to download our free mobile Scam Buster app or call 13 32 20.

Do you want to be better off in retirement?

Retirement is your time. Make sure your money lasts as long as you do and that you've got enough to do the things you want.

Did you know that, a 60-year-old who sought the advice of a financial planner would save $29,000 more than someone who didn't?!

We have partnered with the NSW Seniors Card to offer members a 15 per cent discount on any written financial plan.

Planning for a funeral

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

If a family member or friend dies and you are arranging their funeral, it's useful to know what to do including your rights and responsibilities.

The person arranging the funeral is financially responsible for it and is the only person who can make arrangements with the crematorium or cemetery, including signing all burial or cremation permits.

Have you considered planning ahead for your own funeral? It can give you the choice to make the arrangements you want rather than leaving this up to others.

Paying for the funeral

Before you sign an agreement for a funeral, find out what money is available to pay the costs and discuss options and sources of funds with the funeral director.

Money to pay for a funeral may come from:

- a funeral fund the deceased person may have paid into
- the estate (assets of the deceased person) – check whether the bank will allow money in the deceased person's account to be used for funeral costs
- a pre-paid benefit or investment scheme, superannuation fund or life insurance
- the Australian Government Department of Veterans' Affairs for some returned service people
- a health fund, trade union, pensioner association or other type of club that they belonged to
- Centrelink may offer bereavement assistance.

If there is no money to fund the funeral from the estate or from family and friends, contact the public health unit of your local area health service.

Finding a funeral director

The documents of the deceased may have instructions to use a particular funeral director. If not, friends or relatives may be able to recommend a funeral director. Funeral directors usually provide these services:

- registration of the death, obtaining certificates or permits
- coordination between clergy (or funeral celebrant) and the cemetery or crematorium
- preparation of the body
- supply of coffin or casket
- transport such as a hearse or special cars
- payment of fees on your behalf to the cemetery or crematorium or for flowers
- placing notices in newspapers.

A 'basic' funeral is the lowest cost funeral that a funeral director can provide. If they offer this option, they must give you an itemised quote for it along with any other quotes.

Top tip

By law all NSW funeral directors must provide you with an itemised quote that makes it easier for you to compare their services and prices. Visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au for more details and to download the Funerals brochure. You can also call 13 32 20.

We are Financial Planners, Accountants and Tax agents. Our other services include Investment and Superannuation Strategies, Self-Managed Super Funds, Estate Planning, and Aged Care Services.

Aged Care Expertise

Moving into residential aged care can be a stressful time. Working through the emotional and financial uncertainty can be just as overwhelming. We advise and guide on options, accommodation bonds and alternatives, fee advice & negotiation.

We also assist on matters relating to the Dept of Health & Ageing and Centrelink documentation relating to your decision. We have successfully assisted many clients to move from their family home into independent living, "retirement village" or residential aged care facilities.

Estate Planning

Estate planning is an essential feature of any wealth management plan. Many clients fail to undertake effective estate planning.

We have the experience and expertise to guide you through the process using our preferred estate legal adviser. This will ensure that the legal decisions arrived at reflect the desired financial outcomes. We are also experienced in attending to the taxation affairs of deceased estates and can support any trustee/executor with managing these complex affairs.

Selling your home

Consumer information from NSW Fair Trading

Selling a home is something the average person only does a couple of times in their lifetime. With so much to think about and so much money at stake, doing your homework is critical to making the process smooth and stress free.

A property can be sold by a real estate agent or by the owner. Get advice from a solicitor or licensed conveyancer about the proposed sale. A carefully prepared contract needs to be put together before the property is marketed and made available for potential buyers to examine.

Top tip

You can check the licence details of a conveyancer or real estate agent at www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au or call Fair Trading on 13 32 20.

Choosing a real estate agent

If you decide to use an agent, make sure they are licensed. You will need an agent who:

- exposes your property to the largest number of potential buyers
- has a strong presence in your area
- provides good and accurate marketing advice
- has sound negotiating skills.

Commission, fees and expenses

The amounts charged by agents are not set by law. You can negotiate the commissions, fees or other expenses that the agent charges. Before signing an agreement, talk to a few agents and compare their prices. Ask each agent for a printed list of their fees, commission rates and expenses.

Agency contracts

Agency contracts are legal documents, so make sure you understand what you are signing. Consider the contract and whether you wish to vary any of its terms. Get legal advice if you are not sure what some of the clauses mean.

More details

Visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au and download the Buying or selling a home fact sheet or call 13 32 20. You can also watch videos on buying and selling property at www.youtube.com/NSWOFT

NSW Trustee & Guardian

A secure & independent choice

NSW Trustee & Guardian (NSWTG) provides trustee services such as Will making, deceased estate administration, trust management and Powers of Attorney. Our services are offered to the people of NSW as a secure, independent and impartial alternative to private sector trustee companies, solicitors and private trustees, attorneys and executors. NSWTG can also be appointed financial manager for people with decision making disabilities.

A Power of Attorney is a legal document where you appoint someone to manage your financial affairs should you be unable to do so, or if you do not wish to do so. This includes managing your assets such as properties and shares but does not include health or lifestyle decisions. You can appoint a friend or relative, or someone impartial like NSW Trustee & Guardian, or other solicitors or professionals.

Should you lose capacity, your appointed attorney/s will then be in place to manage your financial affairs on your behalf. You may also appoint your attorney to manage your affairs at other times such as if you become ill or have an accident, take an extended holiday, or for other personal reasons.

Consumer tip

For information on appointing an attorney contact NSW Trustee & Guardian for their Guide to Powers of Attorney. To obtain a free copy go to www.tag.nsw.gov.au or telephone 1800 179 701.

An Enduring Guardian is someone you legally appoint to make decisions for you in areas such as accommodation, health and services, if you lose the capacity to make your own decisions at some time in the future. You can appoint a family member or friend as an enduring guardian.

Consumer tip

You can appoint an enduring guardian by completing a form in the presence of a solicitor, a Registrar of a NSW Local Court or an eligible witness from NSW Trustee & Guardian or the Public Guardian. For more information on enduring guardianship visit the Planning Ahead Tools website www.planningaheadtools.com.au

A Will is a legal document that sets out how you want your assets distributed when you die. It is a person's instructions as to who will inherit their estate after their death.

An executor is the person you appoint to carry out the instructions set out in your Will. The deceased estate administration duties can be complex and demanding which is why people often appoint an independent professional trustee like NSW Trustee & Guardian, or a solicitor as their executor.

Consumer tip

We think that appointing a relative or friend as our executor is a compliment to them – but it can be a time-consuming and onerous role. To answer some of the more commonly asked questions and to explain the role of an executor and process for administering a deceased estate the Guide to Executorship and Probate is now available from NSW Trustee & Guardian. To request your free copy please email tagequiries@tag.nsw.gov.au or phone (02) 9240 0797.

Plan ahead for your Will and Power of Attorney
