

ANNUAL REPORT 2014-15

Serving the State of New South Wales

NSW Police Force

Celebrating 100 years of women in policing

OUR VISION

A safe and secure New South Wales

OUR PURPOSE

Police and the community working together to reduce violence, crime and fear

OUR VALUES

Each member of the NSW Police Force is to act in a manner which:

- (a) places integrity above all
- (b) upholds the rule of law
- (c) preserves the rights and freedoms of individuals
- (d) seeks to improve the quality of life by community involvement in policing
- (e) strives for citizen and police personal satisfaction
- (f) capitalises on the wealth of human resources
- (g) makes efficient and economical use of public resources and
- (h) ensures that authority is exercised responsibly.

OUR SERVICES

We serve 7,565,500 people (approximately 30% of Australia's total population).

We respond to crime, emergencies and other calls for assistance by land, air and sea.

We investigate crime, detect and prosecute offenders.

We patrol identified crime hot spots, provide a police presence at public events and contribute to the security of critical infrastructure.

We patrol roads, waterways and public transport corridors, and investigate major traffic crashes.

Deputy Premier, The Hon Troy Grant MP
Minister for Justice and Police
Parliament House
SYDNEY NSW 2000

Dear Deputy Premier

I am pleased to submit the NSW Police Force Annual Report for the year ended 30 June 2015 for tabling in Parliament.

The report was prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Annual Reports (Departments) Act 1985 and the Annual Reports (Departments) Regulation 2010. It complies with the standardised reporting formulas for financial statements approved by the Treasurer.

Following the report's tabling in Parliament, it will be available for public access on the NSW Police Force website www.police.nsw.gov.au.

Yours sincerely,

Commissioner's Foreword

This reporting year was one of celebration for the NSW Police Force as well as one of reflection.

A siege in Martin Place in December 2014 saw two innocent people, Katrina Dawson and Tori Johnson, lose their lives. Our thoughts remain with their families. Police responded quickly to the incident establishing a staged exclusion zone and evacuating a large number of buildings. Despite significant unavoidable disruption, the response of the workers and visitors to the CBD was exemplary. I was humbled by the support and cooperation of the community as well as the bravery and professionalism of our responding police and emergency services. All responders acted quickly and confidently, putting into place a range of well rehearsed plans. I would like to thank everyone involved – police, emergency services and the community – for their strength, support and resilience during a very difficult time.

This year we celebrated our centenary of women in policing. A strong and effective Police Force must be representative of the people it serves and the New South Wales Police Force would not be the organisation we are today without the enormous contributions made by women over the last 100 years. In 1915, Lillian Armfield and Maude Rhodes became the first two women in the NSW Police Force. However, it wasn't until 1948 before women were allowed to wear uniforms; 1965 before they were sworn in as Constables; and 1979 before they were routinely allowed to carry firearms. It's a much different picture now with women now making up almost 35% of the NSW Police Force both as police and administrative officers, and occupying positions in every one of our policing Commands. More pleasing still is the increasing number of women gaining seniority through promotion at all ranks and grades, up to and including the senior executive.

In September 2014 the National Terrorism Alert Level was raised to high to reflect changes in the security environment. The NSW Police Force works in collaboration with emergency service agencies, business and the community to counter terrorism. We also practise our plans and arrangements through approximately 20 multi-agency exercises per year.

New and amended legislation was introduced throughout the year assisting police to effectively fight crime. These included amendments to bail laws which require those accused of the most serious offences to show why they shouldn't be detained in custody. Amendments to the Criminal Procedure Act 1986 enable domestic violence victims to give evidence by way of an electronically recorded statement, reducing the trauma of recounting evidence in front of offenders.

The prevalence of methylamphetamine, or Ice, was an increasing challenge during the year. With the assistance of information from the public, particularly through Crime Stoppers, police have made significant seizures of this insidious drug as well as closing down numerous clandestine laboratories.

Pleasingly, data from the Bureau of Crime Statistics & Research (BOCSAR) for the 24 months to June 2015 showed that all 17 major offence categories are either trending downward or stable. This continuing success is attributable to the efforts of our officers on the frontline and in specialist commands working together with the community to prevent crime.

As we move into a new reporting year I look forward to continuing our partnership with communities across New South Wales to reduce violence, crime and fear.

6 WESTERN REGION

Area in square kilometres	520,382.57 sq km
Resident population*	525,532
Number of police officers	1,142
Number of administrative staff	148

* Region population estimates have been derived by taking each region's share of the NSW population. These figures do not include staff (police and administrative) who are centrally managed but deployed throughout the regions in specialist and corporate roles to provide investigative support, radio communications, call centres, forensic services, complaints and employee management, air and sea policing, specialist surveillance, canine and mounted support, media and public relations, counter terrorism and major crime investigation, police prosecutions, technology support, occupational health and safety, injury management, education and training, human resource support and asset management. Actual strength across NSWPF has increased from 16,466 in 2013/14 to 16,693 in 2014/15. The figure above represents actual police strength as at 30 June 2015. This figure will vary from month to month and year to year. As at the 30 June 2015 the small decrease from the 30 June 2014 is the result of attrition from local area commands and internal realignment of resources to Specialist Commands.

OUR CHARTER

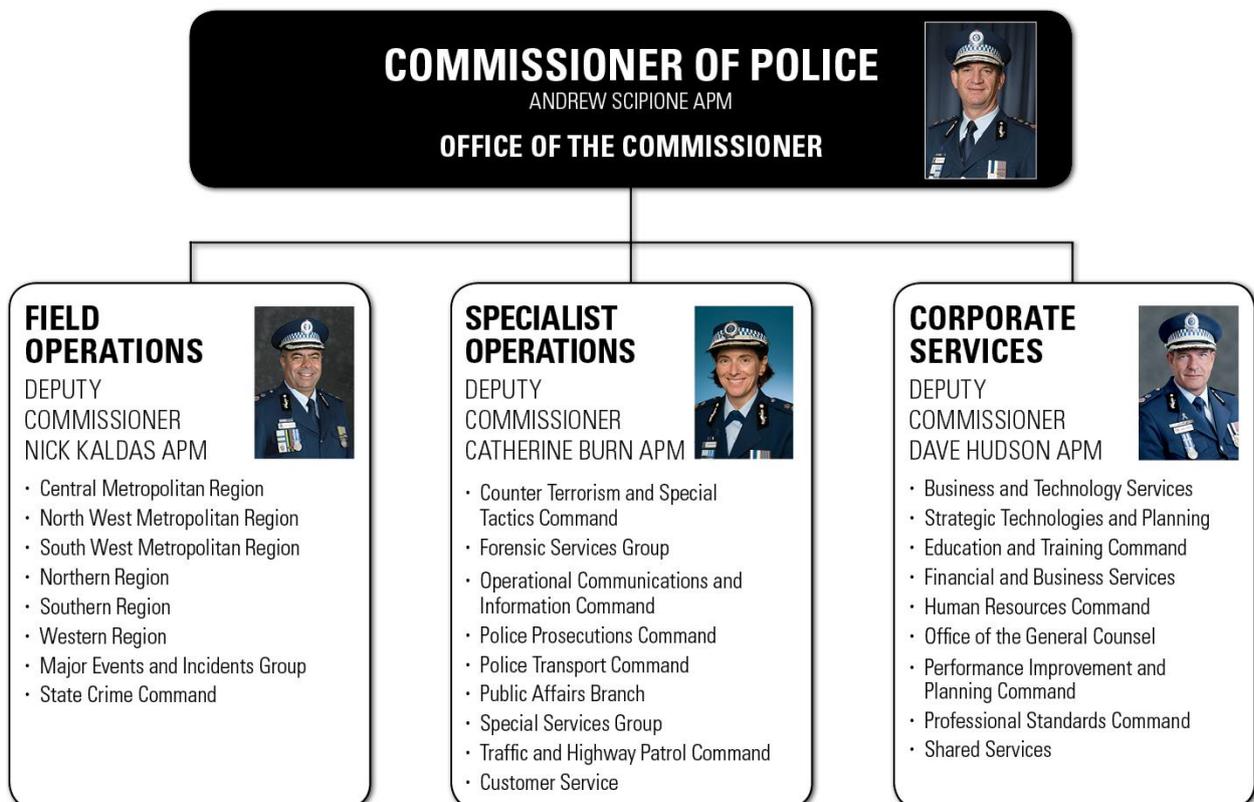

The NSW Police Force operates under the Police Act 1990 and the Police Regulation 2008.

The Night Watch was formed by Governor Arthur Phillip in 1789 to guard Sydney Town. It was the first civilian police force in Australia. In 1862 all Watch Teams were combined under the Police Regulation Act 1862 to form the NSW Police Force. That Act was later replaced by the Police Regulation Act 1899. In June 1987, the NSW Police Force (which was responsible for police operations) and the NSW Police Department (which was responsible for police policy and administration) were amalgamated.

Today the NSW Police Force has 20,629 employees: 16,693 police officers and 3,936 civilian staff.

In the 2014-15 financial year, the NSW Government funding contributions to the NSW Police Force were $3.4 billion.

OUR GOVERNANCE STRUCTURE

The Commissioner has primary responsibility for the day to day governance of the organisation and is responsible to the Deputy Premier, Minister for Justice and Police for the overall direction and performance of the NSW Police Force. The Commissioner's Executive Team (CET) is the peak decision making body and its role includes:

- developing and implementing the overall strategic direction of the NSW Police Force
- planning for the future
- achieving NSW 2021 targets
- monitoring and measuring corporate performance against Corporate Plan 2012-16 targets and expectations
- ensuring compliance with external and internal controls and processes
- setting budgets and monitoring financial performance
- reporting to government
- managing organisational reform.

MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSIONER'S EXECUTIVE TEAM

Chair: Commissioner

Members: Deputy Commissioner Field Operations, Deputy Commissioner Specialist Operations, Deputy Commissioner Corporate Services

Associate members: Representatives from Field Operations, Specialist Operations and Corporate Services on rotation for six months

Ex-officio member: Director, Public Affairs Branch

Commissioner Andrew Scipione APM joined the NSW Police Force in 1980 and was appointed Commissioner in September 2007. He holds a Masters Degree in Management (Macquarie University), a Graduate Diploma in Police Management (Macquarie University) and a Graduate Certificate in Security Management (Edith Cowan University). He is a Fellow of the Australian Institute of Management, a Member of the Australian Institute of Company Directors and a Graduate of the FBI National Executive Institute. In April 2013 Commissioner Scipione was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Letters from Macquarie University and he is an Adjunct Professor at the University of Western Sydney's School of Social Sciences & Psychology.

Deputy Commissioner Field Operations, Nick Kaldas APM joined the NSW Police Force in 1981 and was promoted to the rank of Deputy Commissioner in March 2008. He has completed the FBI Hostage Negotiator's Course as well as being a graduate of the FBI National Executive Institute. He holds a Master's Degree in Public Policy & Administration (Charles Sturt University) and is a graduate and former visiting Fellow of the Management of Serious Crime Program (AFP).

Deputy Commissioner Specialist Operations, Catherine Burn APM joined the NSW Police Force in 1984 and was promoted to the rank of Deputy Commissioner in July 2010. Her qualifications include a Bachelor of Arts degree, an Honours Degree in Psychology, a Masters of Management and the Department of Premier & Cabinet Executive Development Program (2004).

Deputy Commissioner Corporate Services Dave Hudson APM joined the NSW Police Force in 1981 and was promoted to the rank of Deputy Commissioner in February 2013. He is a graduate of the FBI National Academy Program, and holds a Masters of Public Policy & Administration and a Graduate Certificate in Criminology.

A CULTURE OF ETHICAL AND LAWFUL BEHAVIOUR

Our Ethics & Integrity Framework complies with Part 2 of the Government Sector Employment Act 2013 which establishes a legal requirement for all employees in public sector agencies to act ethically in the public interest.

Our Framework seeks to ensure ethics are incorporated into all aspects of policing, making ethical behaviour, practices and decision making a part of daily routine which is supported by a range of policies and initiatives that promote a culture resistant to corruption, misconduct and internal fraud.

FIELD OPERATIONS

Deputy Commissioner
Naguib (Nick) Kaldas APM

The majority of the NSW Police Force is under the command of Deputy Commissioner Field Operations Nick Kaldas APM. This includes frontline local police delivering community based policing, and various skilled commands and units. Together they target crime and the fear of crime, antisocial behaviour, crowd and riot control, organised and serious crime, and drive programs and initiatives for all communities.

With the National Terrorism Alert level being elevated to high, Exercise Sydney CBD, an inter-agency emergency management exercise successfully took place across the city in May 2015. This was significant in ensuring preparedness to manage and respond to threats and identify risks for any future major incidents.

The crackdown on drug syndicates has been a major focus over the last 12 months. Some of our biggest drug operations included Operation Polaris, which seized $156 million worth of liquid methamphetamine from Colombia and Canada after an eight month investigation; Strike Force Duperry seized more than 60kg of illicit drugs from a multinational drug syndicate; and Strike Force Finney stopped $30 million worth of ecstasy reaching our streets through seizure of large quantities of precursor chemicals; as well as Strike Forces Babel, Calyx and Croci, which focused on the drug methamphetamine (ice). Through these, 130 people were charged with various drug supply offences and more than $3 million worth of dangerous drugs were kept off our streets. Strike Force Zambesi seized 35,730 cannabis plants worth an estimated $107 million and 396kg of cannabis head worth $3.5 million while arresting and charging 123 individuals.

Our continued efforts to blunt the influence of outlaw motorcycle gangs (OMCGs) through the sixth year of Strike Force Raptor have seen further success, with Operation Union 1 cracking down on the Rebels OMCG, arresting 10 for various weapons and drug charges. The three-day operation saw over 600 police target more than 200 homes, 50 other premises and seize several firearms.

Operation Talon and Strike Force Sitella have made significant dents in gang related activity. Since inception these have resulted in a 67% decrease in public place shootings in South West Sydney, and more than 300 charges for offences including extortion, home invasions and homicide.

Strides continue to be made in the Multicultural and Diversity portfolio for which Deputy Commissioner Kaldas is the Corporate Sponsor. Highlights include the inaugural National Forum on Diversity Training in Policing - Setting Benchmarks which attracted officers from policing jurisdictions around Australia. Deputy Commissioner Kaldas was also a proud recipient of The Ethnic Communities Council award for fostering and supporting social cohesion in the community.

We also celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Gay & Lesbian Liaison Officer program, highlighting just how far we have come in building trust and confidence in police.

SPECIALIST OPERATIONS

Deputy Commissioner
Catherine Burn APM

Under the leadership of Deputy Commissioner Specialist Catherine Burn APM, police and civilian staff are deployed throughout the state to provide a specialist policing capability that contributes to making New South Wales safe and secure.

By introducing new technologies, reviewing existing processes and developing creative strategies, a number of Specialist Operations Commands have reduced their backlogs and increased efficiencies.

Already considered a leader in providing airborne law enforcement services, the NSW Police Force Aviation Support Branch has commissioned two new aircraft at a cost of $17.3 million. PolAir 5 is a Bell 412EPi medium twin engine multipurpose helicopter, and PolAir 7 is Cessna Grand Caravan EX, a turbo prop single engine fixed wing aircraft.

Radio Communications has eliminated a number of critical black spots in New South Wales. For example police can now drive between Emmdale and Cobar in the far west of the state without needing a satellite phone or CB radio. This was a complicated project that required a great deal of planning and infrastructure.

The NSW Police Force is taking virtual crime scenes into the courtroom. Laser scanning technology is being used to reconstruct crime scenes. The system takes images from 3D laser scans, as well as CCTV footage and photographs, and puts them together to create a virtual crime scene that investigators and members of the jury can 'walk through' on a computer or tablet.

The Counter Terrorism & Special Tactics Command is working collaboratively with other law enforcement agencies to develop strategies and legislation aimed at countering terrorism and violent extremism. This Specialist Command sits on committees including the ANZ Counter Terrorism Committee and the Cabinet Committee on Counter Terrorism.

One of the oldest continuous commands in the NSW Police Force, the Police Armoury has implemented new systems to manage arms and appointments issued to police. The Armoury now has tracking and audit control of all arms and appointments issued to police. The Armoury has also introduced new timelines to service firearms, handcuffs and batons across all metropolitan and country-based areas.

The Information Access & Subpoena Unit (IASU) significantly reduced an annual backlog of applications under the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009 (GIPA). This was accomplished in 12 months by reducing double handling while improving quality control and empowering staff to make decisions.

Over the last three years the Police Transport Command (PTC) has used an intelligence-driven, multifaceted deployment model that sees police saturate the public transport network within targeted hotspots. These operations have resulted in many charges and increased safety on our transport networks.

The power of social media as an investigative tool was demonstrated a number of times throughout the year. Facebook, and our other social media platforms, have become powerful communication tools during times of crisis. They have effectively revolutionised our capacity for the community to be our eyes and ears.

Deputy Commissioner
Dave Hudson APM

CORPORATE SERVICES

Under the leadership of Deputy Commissioner Dave Hudson APM, Corporate Services ensures police at the frontline and those who provide specialist and corporate support to the frontline have the skills, capacity, resources and knowledge they need to reduce crime and create safer communities in New South Wales.

Corporate Services commands are responsible for providing information technology, education and training, finance and business management, human resource management, health and welfare and civil legal support. Corporate Services is also responsible for promoting organisational effectiveness and efficiency, and ensuring police conduct meets the highest ethical standards.

The NSW Police Force internal Command Performance Accountability System (COMPASS) continues to review key performance indicators that align with state and national policing initiatives as well as our Corporate Plan targets. We also conduct up to three forums per year to address emerging topics (such as population growth).

This financial year we received $15.1 million in funding from the State Government to extend the Workforce Improvement Program for an additional four years. Established three years ago, the program aims to improve health and wellbeing, both psychological and physiological, of all employees.

The NSW Police Force Command College Yarramundi, formerly the Management Leadership & Development Command, provides a variety of programs to improve the leadership skills of our senior staff. As well as coordinating the Graduate Certificate in Applied Management (Policing & Emergency Services), Yarramundi has also introduced the Taking the Lead Program for constables and the Leading Locally Program for senior management teams.

Following the trial of 60 mobile devices by operational police last year, the Mobile Policing Program extended the trial to include 500 smartphones. Using specifically designed apps, police are able to make national enquiries of people and vehicles, as well as capture video and photographic evidence. Working in partnership with the Office of State Revenue we're also developing apps to issue electronic infringement notices.

The NSW Police Force is modernising its core IT systems. In January 2015, we implemented Bail System Amendments to support the enhanced legislative processes. In September 2014 we released the Domestic Violence Safety Assessment Tool (DVSAT), which helps identify victims at risk of future harm and the sharing of information between government agencies to manage that risk.

This reporting year the NSW Police Force completed the design of the new COPS system and issued a Request For Proposal to the marketplace at the end of June 2015. We also entered into a partnership with Service NSW to build the Online Crime Reporting Community Portal, which will provide a convenient alternative for the community to report certain incidents and interact with investigating officers. The first release will include the reporting of lost property, stealing and malicious property damage.

How we Performed

The mission of the NSW Police Force, as set out in the Police Act 1990, is to work with the community to reduce violence, crime and fear. Our Corporate Plan 2012-16 connects the guiding principles of the Directions in Australia New Zealand Policing 2012-15 and the priorities of NSW 2021 to our command business plans and senior officer performance agreements.

The performance indicators presented in this section are drawn from the NSW Police Force Corporate Plan 2012-16, which establishes six key performance areas for all of the Force's performance plans and reports (crime, public safety, community and partners, people, systems and leadership). A copy of the plan is available on the NSW Police Force website, www.police.nsw.gov.au, or by searching for "NSW Police Force Corporate Plan".

CRIME

We focus on reducing rates of crime, particularly violent crime. Frontline policing and the targeting of crime hot spots and repeat offenders have contributed to crime levels across all major key indicators falling or remaining stable.

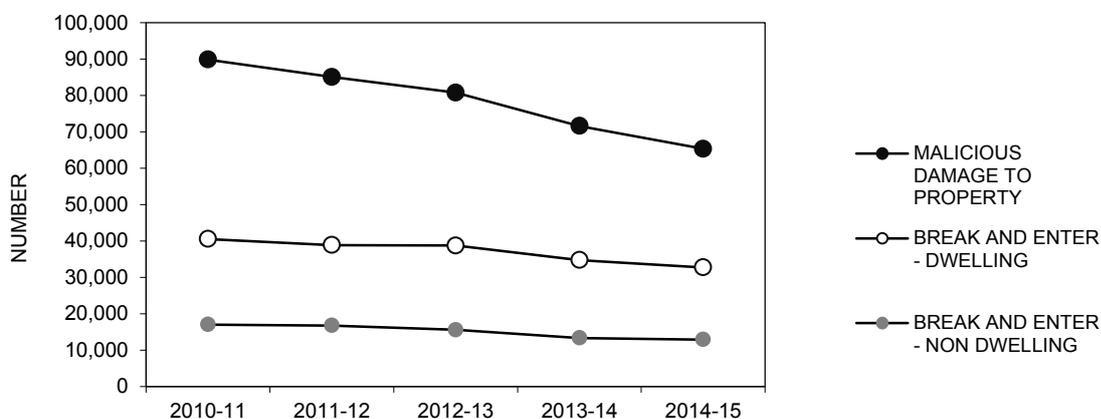

Note: Recorded crime statistics represent only those matters reported to police. A change in recorded crime may reflect changes in the propensity to report to police.

PUBLIC SAFETY

We focus on reducing levels of antisocial behaviour and the community's perception and fear of crime. The community expects public spaces to be safe to use. Police patrols are extensive and focus on hot spots for poor driving, crime and antisocial behaviour.

Any survey estimate is subject to sample error – the smaller the sample, the larger the sample error. Rather than report point estimates, results are presented as a range (the 95% confidence interval). This means there are 19 chances in 20 that the true value lies within the range. Perceptions are influenced by many factors, not necessarily related to the actual level of crime and social disorder (e.g. media reporting and past personal experiences).

Response times

The community expects police to be available and capable of responding to calls for assistance within a reasonable time.

Note: The percentage shown is the sum of respondents who reported feeling 'very safe' and 'safe'. Any survey estimate is subject to sample error – the smaller the sample, the larger the sample error. Rather than report point estimates, results are presented as a range (the 95% confidence interval). This means that there are 19 chances in 20 that the true value lies within the range.

COMMUNITY AND PARTNERS

We focus on increasing community confidence in police. Customer service initiatives and prompt, professional responses to crime and safety issues are meeting community expectations.

PEOPLE

We focus on enhancing the capabilities of our staff and providing a safe and supportive work environment.

Police numbers and distribution

TABLE 10: POLICE NUMBERS, NSW

NUMBERS AS AT 30 JUNE	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015
Actual	15,943	15,976	16,371	16,466	16,693
Authorised positions	15,806	15,956	16,176	16,355	16,565

Source: NSW Police Force, Human Resources

Note: The number of authorised positions is the approved total number of police officer positions. The actual number of police officers at any time may be higher or lower than the number of authorised positions since recruitment is planned to replace the expected number of officers lost through attrition (due to resignation, retirement, discharge or other reasons).

Leave and turnover

Two measures of excess leave are used in NSW Police Force reporting: officers over the allowed accrued hours of annual leave; and officers over the allowed accrued hours of annual and additional leave (accrued by those officers working Sunday and public holiday shifts).

- The total number of police officers over the maximum allowed accrued hours of annual leave was 1,276 (7.6% of all NSW Police Force police officers), down from 1,433 in 2013-14 (8.7%).
- The total number of police officers over the maximum allowed accrued hours of annual and additional leave was 2,042 (12.2% of all NSW Police Force police officers), down from 2,106 in 2013-14 (12.8%).

The average number of hours lost per employee (sworn and administrative) due to unplanned absences (that is sick leave and workplace injury leave) was 101 hours in 2014-15, up from 97 hours in 2013-14.

The average number of sick leave hours per employee was 56 hours during 2014-15, up from 53 hours in 2013-14.

The number of hours lost per employee through workplace injury was 45 hours during 2014-15, up from 44 hours in 2012-13.

Police officer turnover was 2.2% for 2014-15, down from 2.4% for 2013-14.

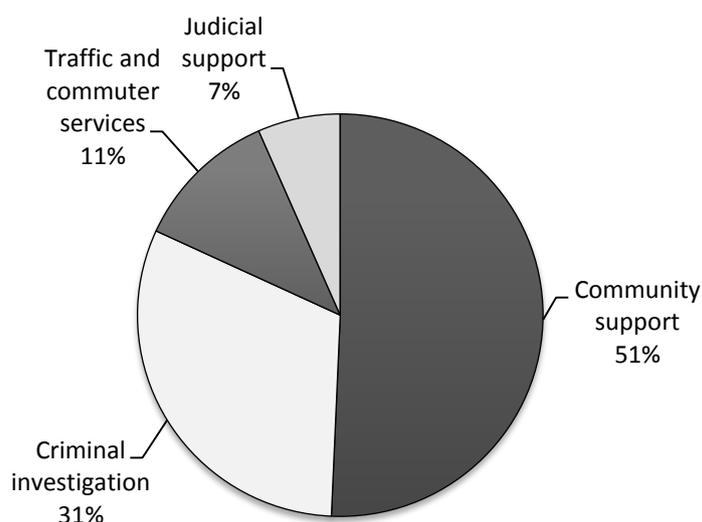

Note: Data on unplanned absences is subject to revision in subsequent years as updated information on unplanned absences is received and entered on the system.

SYSTEMS

We focus on improving organisational capability to deliver our services. Local area commands are the primary focus of service delivery by the NSW Police Force.

CHART 18: REGION STAFF DEPLOYMENT, 2014-15

Source: NSW Police Force, SAP

a. Community support includes supplying an effective, timely and flexible 24 hour response to incidents, emergencies and public events.

b. Criminal investigation includes crime detection, investigation, forensic services and dealing with alleged offenders.

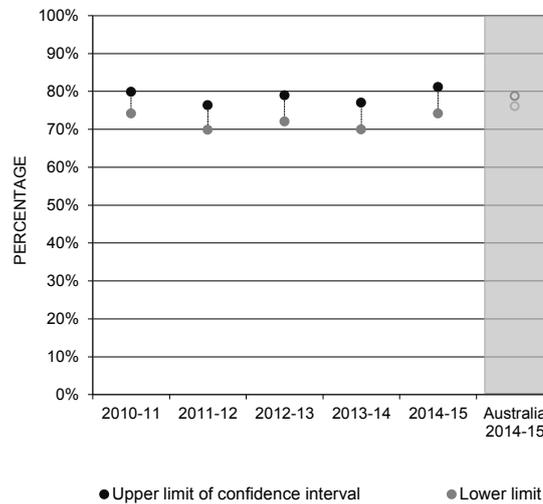

c. Traffic and commuter services includes patrolling roads, highways and public transport corridors, investigating major vehicle crashes, detecting traffic and transport offences, and supervising peak traffic flows.

d. Judicial support includes judicial and custodial services, prosecuting offenders, presenting evidence at court, transport and custody for people under police supervision, and support to victims and witnesses.

SATISFACTION WITH POLICE

We aim to provide our people with the skills and direction to do an effective job.

MAJOR EXPENSES

Total expenses including losses were $3,494.2 million. About 81.79% of this amount represented employee-related expenses ($2,857.8 million), with $1,881.4 million spent on salaries, wages and annual leave entitlements. Employee-related expenses increased 1.3% from 2013-14. This consists of salaries, wages and annual leave entitlements, Crown acceptance of certain employee-related costs such as superannuation and long service leave expenses, workers' compensation insurance and other expenses. Maintenance of property, plant and equipment totalled $39.6 million.

CONTRIBUTIONS AND REVENUE

Total contributions and revenue were $3,428.7 million, about 0.5% higher than 2013-14. This contribution consists of recurrent grants, capital grants, Crown acceptance of certain employee-related costs such as superannuation, long service leave expenses, and other revenue. Capital grants were $144.6 million. Revenue from the sale of goods and services was $38.20 million, about 0.5% higher than 2013-14.

ACTUAL AND BUDGET EXPENDITURE ($'000)

FISCAL IMPACT OF THE OPERATING ENVIRONMENT

Economic development and changes in the environment are often unpredictable and beyond the control of the NSW Police Force. Events like droughts and emergencies can cause change in a community's circumstances and impact on our ability to deliver our planned results. However in the last year, there were no factors which affected the delivery of policing services.

Total Expenses and Losses $3,494.2 million

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

NSW Police Force

To Members of the New South Wales Parliament

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of NSW Police Force (the Force) which comprise the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2015, the statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity, statement of cash flows, and service group statements for the year then ended, notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Opinion

In my opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Force as at 30 June 2015, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards
- are in accordance with section 45E of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983 (PF&A Act) and the Public Finance and Audit Regulation 2015.

My opinion should be read in conjunction with the rest of this report.

Commissioner's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Commissioner is responsible for preparing financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the PF&A Act and for such internal control as the Commissioner determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Those standards require that I comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including an assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

My opinion does not provide assurance:

- about the future viability of the Force
- that it carried out its activities effectively, efficiently and economically
- about the effectiveness of the internal control
- about the assumptions used in formulating the budget figures disclosed in the financial statements
- about the security and controls over the electronic publication of the audited financial statements on any website where they may be presented
- about other information that may have been hyperlinked to/from the financial statements.

Independence

In conducting my audit, I have complied with the independence requirements of the Australian Auditing Standards and relevant ethical pronouncements. The PF&A Act further promotes independence by:

- providing that only Parliament, and not the executive government, can remove an Auditor-General
- mandating the Auditor-General as auditor of public sector agencies, but precluding the provision of non-audit services, thus ensuring the Auditor-General and the Audit Office of New South Wales are not compromised in their roles by the possibility of losing clients or income.

START OF AUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NSW Police Force

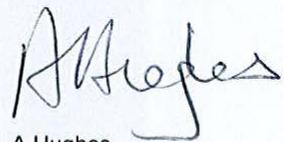

for the year ended 30 June 2015

Pursuant to section 45F of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983, we state that:

- (a) the accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983, the Financial Reporting Code for NSW General Government Sector Entities, the applicable clauses of the Public Finance and Audit Regulation 2015, applicable Australian Accounting Standards, other mandatory professional reporting requirements and Treasurer's Directions and Treasury Circulars;
- (b) the financial statements exhibit a true and fair view of the financial position and financial transactions of NSW Police Force; and
- (c) we are not aware of any circumstances which would render any particulars included in the financial statements to be misleading or inaccurate.

1. The names and purposes of each service group are summarised in Note 6.

2. Grant received from the Department of Justice (formerly Department of Police and Justice) is made on an entity basis and not to individual service groups. Consequently, grant from the Department of Justice is included in the 'Not Attributable' column. Revaluation surplus is also unlikely to be attributable to individual service groups.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Reporting entity

The NSW Police Force is a NSW government entity. The NSW Police Force is a not-for-profit entity (as profit is not its principal objective) and it has no cash generating units. The reporting entity is consolidated as part of the NSW Total State Sector Accounts.

These financial statements for the year ended 30 June 2015 have been authorised for issue by the Commissioner on 18th September 2015.

(b) Basis of preparation

The NSW Police Force's financial statements are general purpose financial statements which have been prepared on an accrual basis and in accordance with:

- applicable Australian Accounting Standards (which include Australian Accounting Interpretations);
- the requirements of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983 and Public Finance and Audit Regulation 2015; and
- the Financial Reporting Directions published in the Financial Reporting Code for NSW General Government Sector Entities or issued by the Treasurer.

Property, plant and equipment are measured at fair value. Other financial statement items are prepared in accordance with the historical cost convention except where specified otherwise.

Judgements, key assumptions and estimations that management has made, are disclosed in the relevant notes to the financial statements as follows:

- Fixed assets depreciation Note 1(i)(v)
- Employee Benefits and other provisions Note 1(j)(iv)
- Non renewal benefit Note 1 (j)(iv)(e)
- Death and disability Note 1 (j)(iv)(f)
- Service group statements allocation methodology Note 1(o)

All amounts are rounded to the nearest one thousand dollars and are expressed in Australian currency.

(c) Statement of Compliance

The financial statements and notes comply with Australian Accounting Standards, which include Australian Accounting Interpretations.

(d) Administered Activities

The NSW Police Force administers, but does not control, certain activities on behalf of the Crown Entity. It is accountable for the transactions relating to those administered activities but does not have the discretion to deploy the resources for the achievement of the NSW Police Force's own objectives.

Transactions and balances relating to the administered activities are not recognised as the NSW Police Force's income, assets and liabilities, but are disclosed in the accompanying notes as "Administered Assets and Liabilities" and "Administered Income", refer Note 24 and Note 25.

The accrual basis of accounting and applicable accounting standards has been adopted.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

(e) Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs are recognised as expenses in the period in which they are incurred, in accordance with Treasury's Mandate to not-for-profit general government sector agencies.

(f) Insurance

The insurance activities of the NSW Police Force are conducted through NSW Treasury Managed Fund Scheme of self-insurance for Government entities. The expense (premium) is determined by the Fund Manager and is based on past claims experience.

(g) Accounting for the Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Income, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except that the:

- amount of GST incurred by the NSW Police Force as a purchaser that is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office is recognised as part of an asset's cost of acquisition or as part of an item of expense; and
- Receivables and payables are stated with the amount of GST included.

Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis. However, the GST components of cash flows arising from investing and financing activities which is recoverable from, or payable to, the Australian Taxation Office are classified as operating cash flows.

(h) Income recognition

Income is measured at the fair value of the consideration or contribution received or receivable. Additional comments regarding the accounting policies for the recognition of income are discussed below.

(i) Grants and Contributions

Grants and contributions from other bodies (including grants and donations) are recognised as income when the NSW Police Force obtains control over the assets comprising the appropriations/contributions. Control over grants and contributions are normally obtained upon the receipt of cash.

(ii) Sale of Goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised as revenue when the NSW Police Force transfers the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the assets.

(iii) Rendering of Services

Revenue is recognised when the service is provided or by reference to the stage of completion (based on labour hours incurred to date).

(iv) Investment Revenue

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest method as set out in AASB 139 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)(i) Assets*(i) Acquisitions of Assets

Assets acquired are initially recognised at cost. Cost is the amount of cash or cash equivalents paid or the fair value of the other consideration given to acquire the asset at the time of its acquisition or construction or, where applicable, the amount attributed to that asset when initially recognised in accordance with the specific requirements of other Australian Accounting Standards.

Assets acquired at no cost, or for nominal consideration, are initially recognised as assets and revenues at their fair value at acquisition date (see also assets transferred as a result of an equity transfer – Note 1(m)).

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset in an orderly transaction between market participants at measurement date.

Where payment for an asset is deferred beyond normal credit terms, its cost is the cash price equivalent; i.e. deferred payment amount is effectively discounted over the period of credit.

(ii) Capitalisation Thresholds

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets costing $5,000 and above individually are capitalised. In addition, assets forming part of a network (including printers) and communications systems are capitalised regardless of cost.

(iii) Revaluation of Property, Plant and Equipment

The NSW Police Force's property portfolio consists of land, police residences, police stations and other operational buildings. Physical non-current assets are valued in accordance with the "Valuation of Physical Non-Current Assets at Fair Value" Policy and Guidelines Paper (TPP 14-01). This policy adopts fair value in accordance with AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement, AASB 116 Property, Plant and Equipment and AASB 140 Investment Property. Also refer Note 1 (i) (x) on investment property.

Property, plant and equipment is measured at the highest and best use by the market participants that is physically possible, legally permissible and financially feasible. The highest and best use must be available at a period that is not remote and take into account the characteristics of the asset being measured, including any socio-political restrictions imposed by government. In most cases, after taking into account these considerations, the highest and best use is the existing use. In limited circumstances, the highest and best use may be a feasible alternative use, where there are no restrictions on use or where there is a feasible higher restricted alternative use.

Fair value of residential property, aircraft and vessels is based on a market participants' perspective, using valuation techniques (market approach, cost approach, income approach) that maximise relevant observable inputs and minimise unobservable inputs. Also refer Note 12 and Note 26 for further information regarding fair value.

Police Stations and associated administrative areas are valued based on the estimated current replacement cost of the most appropriate modern equivalent replacement facility having a similar service potential to the existing asset. Land is valued at the highest and best use basis, subject to any restrictions or enhancements since acquisition. The land component of the property portfolio and police residences has been revalued with market value as the basis for revaluation.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)(i) Assets (continued)*(iii) Revaluation of Property, Plant and Equipment (continued)

Land and buildings are revalued over a three-year cycle. The NSW Police Force undertakes this progressive method of revaluation in accordance with Treasury Guidelines and AASB 116 Property, Plant and Equipment. The last such revaluation was completed on 30 April 2015 and was based on an independent assessment. The 2015 revaluation is the third in the current three-year cycle. In 2015, the land and building assets in the Southern region, South-West Metro Region and North-West Metro Region were revalued. To ensure that the land and building assets not included in the 2015 revaluation are held at fair value at 30 June 2015, valuation factors were obtained from accredited valuers. There was no material difference between the values recorded and the adjusted values had the valuation factors been applied. All land and building revaluations, and the valuation factors are undertaken by accredited valuers, engaged by the external property management service provider, to ensure consistency.

Non-specialised assets with short useful lives are measured at depreciated historical cost as an approximation of fair value. The NSW Police Force has assessed that any difference between fair value and depreciated historical cost is unlikely to be material.

Heritage buildings are valued at a premium rate taking into consideration the highest and best use of the property.

When revaluing non-current assets using the cost approach, the gross amount and the related accumulated depreciation are separately restated.

For other assets valued using other valuation techniques, any balances of accumulated depreciation at the revaluation date in respect of those assets are credited to the asset accounts to which they relate. The net asset accounts are then increased or decreased by the revaluation increments or decrements.

Revaluation increments are credited directly to the revaluation surplus, except that, to the extent that an increment reverses a revaluation decrement for that class of asset, previously recognised as an expense, the increment is recognised immediately as revenue.

Revaluation decrements are recognised immediately as expenses, except that, to the extent that a credit balance exists in the revaluation surplus for the same class of assets, they are debited directly to the revaluation surplus.

As a not-for-profit entity, revaluation increments and decrements are offset against one another within a class of non-current assets, but not otherwise. Where an asset previously revalued is disposed of, any balance remaining in the revaluation surplus for that asset is transferred to accumulated funds.

(iv) Impairment of Property, Plant and Equipment

As a not-for-profit entity with no cash generating units, impairment under AASB 136 Impairment of Assets is unlikely to arise. As property, plant and equipment is carried at fair value or an amount that approximates fair value, impairment can only arise in the rare circumstances such as where the costs of disposal are material. Specifically, impairment is unlikely for not-for-profit entities given that AASB 136 modifies the recoverable amount test for non-cash generating assets of not-for-profit entities to the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and depreciated replacement cost, where depreciated replacement cost is also fair value.

(i) Assets (continued)

(v) Depreciation and Amortisation of Property, Plant and Equipment

Depreciation/amortisation is provided for on a straight-line basis for all depreciable assets so as to write off the depreciable/amortised amount, as consumed over its useful life, to the NSW Police Force. Land is not a depreciable asset.

All material separately identifiable components of assets are recognised and depreciated /amortised over their useful lives. If the asset cannot be separately identified, even though it is an integral part or component of a larger asset, then it is considered to be a whole of an asset and is depreciated /amortised over the useful life.

Current depreciation/amortisation rates are as follows:

Category	Asset Category Name	Rate
A	Aircraft/aviation	15%
B	Buildings & improvements	useful life varies 3 to 58 years
C	Computers – not PC's	25%
C 1	Computers – PC's	20%
D	Computer integrated software	10%
E	Furniture & fittings	10%
F	Plant & equipment	10%
G	Marine equipment	5%
H	Transport equipment	15%
I	Office equipment	10%
J	Scientific apparatus	15%
K	Radio communications equipment	15%
M	Firearms and dangerous weapons	10%
N	Musical instruments	10%
P	Livestock	12.5%
Q	Leased buildings	lease term per asset

(vi) Major Inspection Costs

When each major inspection is performed, the labour cost of performing major inspections for faults is recognised in the carrying amount of an asset as a replacement of a part, if the recognition criteria are satisfied.

(vii) Restoration Costs

The estimated cost of dismantling and removing an asset and restoring the site is included in the cost of an asset, to the extent it is recognised as a liability.

(viii) Maintenance

Day-to-day servicing costs or maintenance are charged as expenses as incurred, except where they relate to the replacement of a part or component of an asset, in which case the costs are capitalised and depreciated.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)(i) Assets (continued)*(ix) Leased Assets

A distinction is made between finance leases which effectively transfer from the lessor to the lessee substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the leased assets, and operating leases under which the lessor does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards.

Where a non-current asset is acquired by means of a finance lease, at the commencement of the lease term, the asset is recognised at its fair value or, if lower, the present value of the minimum lease payments, at the inception of the lease. The corresponding liability is established at the same amount. Lease payments are allocated between the principal component and the interest expense.

Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(x) Investment Properties

The NSW Police Force receives rental income from accommodation provided to police officers, and other agencies. These properties were originally acquired for the NSW Police Force administrative purposes and not for rental or capital appreciation; as such they do not satisfy the criteria of investment properties.

(xi) Intangible Assets

The NSW Police Force recognises intangible assets only if it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the NSW Police Force and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. Intangible assets are measured initially at cost. Where an asset is acquired at no or nominal cost, the cost is its fair value as at the date of acquisition.

All research costs are expensed. Development costs are only capitalised when certain criteria are met.

The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed to be finite. Intangible assets are subsequently measured at fair value only if there is an active market. As there is no active market for the NSW Police Force's intangible assets, the assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and impairment losses.

The NSW Police Force's intangible assets are amortised using the straight-line method over a period of 10 years for computer software.

Intangible assets are tested for impairment where an indicator of impairment exists. However, as a not-for-profit entity with no cash generating units, impairment under AASB 136 Impairment of Assets is unlikely to arise (refer to Note 1(i)(iv)).

(xii) Loans and Receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. These financial assets are recognised initially at fair value, usually based on the transaction cost or face value. Subsequent measurement is at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less an allowance for any impairment of receivables. Any changes are recognised in the net result for the year when impaired, derecognised or through the amortisation process.

Short-term receivables with no stated interest rate are measured at the original invoice amount where the effect of discounting is immaterial.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)(i) Assets (continued)*(xiii) Impairment of Financial Assets

All financial assets, except those measured at fair value through profit and loss, are subject to annual review for impairment. An allowance for impairment is established when there is objective evidence that the entity will not be able to collect all amounts due.

For financial assets carried at amortised cost, the amount of the allowance is the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows, discounted at the effective interest rate. The amount of the impairment loss is recognised in the net result for the year.

When an available for sale financial asset is impaired, the amount of the cumulative loss is removed from equity and recognised in the net result for the year, based on the difference between the acquisition cost (net of any principal repayment and amortisation) and current fair value, less any impairment loss previously recognised in the net result for the year.

Any reversals of impairment losses are reversed through the net result for the year where there is objective evidence. Reversals of impairment losses of financial assets carried at amortised cost cannot result in a carrying amount that exceeds what the carrying amount would have been had there not been an impairment loss.

(xiv) De-recognition of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities

A financial asset is derecognised when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial assets expire; or if the NSW Police Force transfers the financial asset:

- where substantially all the risks and rewards have been transferred; or
- where the NSW Police Force has not transferred substantially all the risks and rewards, if the NSW Police Force has not retained control.

Where the NSW Police Force has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards or transferred control, the asset is recognised to the extent of the NSW Police Force's continuing involvement in the asset.

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expired.

(xv) Non-Current Assets Held for Sale

The NSW Police Force has certain non-current assets classified as held for sale, where their carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction, not through continuing use. Non-current assets held for sale are recognised at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less costs of disposal. These assets are not depreciated while they are classified as held for sale.

(xvi) Trust Funds

The NSW Police Force receives monies in a trustee capacity as set out in Note 23. As the NSW Police Force performs only a custodial role with these monies, and because the monies cannot be used for the achievement of the NSW Police Force's own objectives, these funds are not recognised in the financial statements.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)(i) Assets (continued)*(xvii) Other Assets

Other assets are recognised on a historic cost basis.

(j) Liabilities(i) Payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the NSW Police Force and other amounts. Payables are recognised initially at fair value, usually based on the transaction cost or face value. Subsequent measurement is at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Short-term payables with no stated interest rate are measured at the original invoice amount where the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(ii) Borrowings

Loans are not held for trading or designated at fair value through profit or loss and are recognised at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method. Gains or losses are recognised in the net result for the year on de-recognition.

The finance lease liability is determined in accordance with AASB 117 Leases.

(iii) Financial Guarantees

A financial guarantee contract is a contract that requires the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payment when due in accordance with the original or modified terms of a debt instrument.

Financial guarantee contracts are recognised as a liability at the time the guarantee is issued and initially recognised at fair value plus, in the case of financial guarantees not at fair value through profit or loss, directly attributable transaction costs, where material. After initial recognition, the liability is measured at the higher of the amount determined in accordance with AASB 137 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets and the amount initially recognised, less accumulated amortisation, where appropriate.

The NSW Police Force did not provide any financial guarantee contracts in the years ended 30 June 2015 and 30 June 2014.

(j) Liabilities (continued)

(iv) Employee Benefits and Other Provisions

(a) Salaries and Wages, Annual Leave, Sick Leave and On-costs

Salaries and wages (including non-monetary benefits), that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the service are recognised and measured at the undiscounted amounts of the benefits.

Annual leave is not expected to be settled wholly before twelve months after the end of the annual reporting period in which the employees render the related service. As such, it is required to be measured at present value in accordance with AASB 119 Employee Benefits (although short-cut methods are permitted). Actuarial advice obtained by Treasury has confirmed that the use of a nominal approach plus the annual leave on annual leave liability (using 7.9% of the nominal value of annual leave) can be used to approximate the present value of the annual leave liability. NSW Police Force has assessed the actuarial advice based on the entity's circumstances and has determined that the effect of discounting is immaterial to annual leave.

Unused non-vesting sick leave does not give rise to a liability as it is not considered probable that sick leave taken in the future will be greater than the benefits accrued in the future.

(b) Long Service Leave and Superannuation

The liabilities for long service leave and defined benefit superannuation of the NSW Police Force are assumed by the Crown Entity. The NSW Police Force accounts for the liability as having been extinguished; resulting in the amount assumed being shown as part of the non-monetary revenue item described as "Acceptance by the Crown Entity of employee benefits and other liabilities".

Long service leave is measured at present value in accordance with AASB 119 Employee Benefits. This is based on the application of certain factors (specified in NSWTC15/09) to employees with five or more years of service, using current rates of pay. These factors were determined based on an actuarial review to approximate present value.

The superannuation expense for the financial year is determined by using the formulae specified in the Treasurer's Directions. The expense for certain superannuation schemes (i.e. Basic Benefit and First State Super) is calculated as a percentage of the employees' salary. For other superannuation schemes (i.e. State Superannuation Scheme and State Authorities Superannuation Scheme), the expense is calculated as a multiple of the employees' superannuation contributions.

(c) Consequential on-costs

Consequential costs to employment are recognised as liabilities and expenses where the employee benefits to which they relate have been recognised. This includes outstanding amounts of payroll tax, workers' compensation insurance premiums and fringe benefits tax.

(j) Liabilities (continued)

(iv) Employee Benefits and Other Provisions (continued)

(d) Other Provisions

Other provisions exist when: the NSW Police Force has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of a past event; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted at 2.89%, which is the 10 year government bond rate at 19 June 2015, which reflects the current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability.

(e) Non-Renewal Benefit

Commissioned Police officers employed under fixed term appointment contracts are entitled to the payment of non-renewal benefits, equal to 12.5% of the accumulated salary earnings for each completed term of appointment. Such benefits are payable only on the officer's termination from the NSW Police Force.

The liability for non-renewal benefits is recognised from the beginning of the first fixed term appointment of each officer and is measured on the accumulated salary earnings of each officer at reporting date. An actuarial assessment of this liability is performed every three years.

The non-renewal benefit liability is measured at present value in accordance with AASB 119 Employee Benefits. The 2014-15 actuarial valuation of NSW Police Force's non-renewal benefit liability has been assessed in the current year based on data as at 30 June 2015.

The next actuarial assessment of this liability is due no later than 30 June 2018.

The liability is disclosed in Note 16 as part of 'Current / Non-Current Liabilities – Provisions'.

(j) Liabilities (continued)

(iv) Employee Benefits and Other Provisions (continued)

(f) The NSW Police Force Blue Ribbon Super Scheme

The valuation of NSW Police Force's self-insured liabilities under the NSW Police Death and Disability Award Insurance scheme as at 30 June 2015 is based on data as at 30 June 2015.

The NSW Police Force Blue Ribbon Super Scheme facilitates Death and Total and Permanent Incapacity benefits (TPD), and Partial and Permanent Disability benefits (PPD) to eligible police officers of the NSW Police Force from 23 June 2005 until its replacement by the Police Amendment (Death and Disability) Act 2011.

Under the 2011 Act, the new death and TPD benefits were effective from 20 January 2012 while the new Income Protection (IP) benefits were effective for any claim that did not meet the transitional arrangements to be eligible for 2005 PPD benefits on 30 November 2011.

These arrangements are provided to a police officer in the event that he or she suffered an on duty or off duty injury which results in the death or total and permanent incapacity or partial and permanent incapacity of the officer. The NSW Police Force (employer) and police officers (employees) make contributions as required by these Awards.

The NSW Police Force's self-insured liability for PPD benefits (2005 Award) and income protection (IP) benefits are deemed "termination benefits" under AASB 119 Employee Benefits. The liability is measured in accordance with AASB 119 and is consistent with AASB 137 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets.

The quantum of the NSW Police Force's total self-insured liability exposure is determined based on an independent actuarial assessment.

The assessment approximates the potential liability of PPD and IP as well as death and TPD that are not covered by the insurer, and the recovery of payments made under a PPD claim when the affected officer submits a TPD claim in finalisation of compensation for an injury. The valuation also includes the potential risk sharing liabilities payable to the insurers (MetLife and TAL) if the insured death and TPD claims experience is above a specified level.

As at 30 June 2015 the estimated liability exceeded the estimated recovery.

The liability has been discounted at an assumed government bond rate of 2% with a term of 2.3 years. The largest component of the liabilities is the 2011 Award income protection benefits and these have a maximum payment period of five years for claims with a date of injury prior to 1 October 2013 and seven years for claims with a date of injury from 1 October 2013.

The liability is disclosed in Note 16 as part of 'Current / Non-Current Liabilities – Provisions' and the recovery is disclosed in Note 8 as part of 'Current / Non-Current Assets – Receivables'.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)(j) Liabilities (continued)*(v) Lease Incentives

Lease incentives payable or receivable under operating leases are recognised initially as assets or liabilities. The incentive is subsequently amortised over the lease term, as a reduction of rental income or rental expenses. The straight-line method is adopted for reduction of rental income and rental expense.

(k) Fair value hierarchy

A number of the NSW Police Force's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities. When measuring fair value, the valuation technique used maximises the use of relevant observable inputs and minimises the use of unobservable inputs. Under AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement, the NSW Police Force categorises, for disclosure purposes, the valuation techniques based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

- Level 1 - quoted prices in active markets for identical assets / liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date.
- Level 2 – inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3 – inputs that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The NSW Police Force recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred. Refer Note 12 and Note 26 for further disclosures regarding fair value measurements of financial and non-financial assets.

(l) Equity and Reserves(i) Revaluation surplus

The revaluation surplus is used to record increments and decrements on the revaluation of non-current assets. This accords with the agency's policy on the revaluation of property, plant and equipment as discussed in Note 1(i)(iii).

(ii) Accumulated Funds

The category 'Accumulated Funds' includes all current and prior period retained funds.

- (iii) Separate reserve accounts are recognised in the financial statements only if such accounts are required by specific legislation or Australian Accounting Standards (e.g. asset revaluation reserve and foreign currency translation reserve).

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)(m) Equity Transfers

The transfer of net assets between agencies as a result of an administrative restructure, transfers of service groups functions and parts thereof between NSW public sector agencies and 'equity appropriations' (refer Note 1(l)) are designated or required by Accounting Standards to be treated as contributions by owners and recognised as an adjustment to "Accumulated Funds". This treatment is consistent with AASB 1004 Contributions and Australian Accounting Interpretation 1038 Contributions by Owners Made to Wholly-Owned Public Sector Entities.

Transfers arising from an administrative restructure involving not-for-profit entities and for-profit government departments are recognised at the amount at which the assets and liabilities were recognised by the transferor immediately prior to the restructure. Subject to below, in most instances this will approximate fair value.

All other equity transfers are recognised at fair value, except for intangibles. Where an intangible has been recognised at (amortised) cost by the transferor because there is no active market, the agency recognises the asset at the transferor's carrying amount. Where the transferor is prohibited from recognising internally generated intangibles, the agency does not recognise that asset.

(n) Budgeted Amounts

The budgeted amounts are drawn from the original budgeted financial statements presented to Parliament in respect of the reporting period. Subsequent amendments to the original budget (e.g. adjustment for transfer of functions between entities as a result of Administrative Arrangements Orders) are not reflected in the budgeted amounts. Major variances between the original budgeted amounts and the actual amounts disclosed in the primary financial statements is explained in Note 20.

(o) Service Group Statements Allocation Methodology

The statement of comprehensive income line items within the Service Group Statements are allocated across the NSW Police Force service groups where deemed appropriate. The methodology is primarily based on the information from the rostering system, which is attributed to activities, which in turn are attributed to service groups. The major cost driver is labour hours for operational policing centres, which represents the fact that labour costs are the major cost of the NSW Police Force. Other Specialist policing centres are more easily aligned to service delivery and are allocated according to function from cost centre reports. Non policing corporate services functions are allocated on the basis determined by the policing cost centres. Where specific line items can be allocated to a specific service group, this has been done. Government contributions and Equity cannot be reliably allocated across service groups and are shown as "not attributable".

The rostering system and the associated activity based costing system is the most reliable information available, given that labour hours is the primary cost driver and systems providing other cost driver information are limited. The statement of financial position line items have been generally allocated as follows: Property, Plant and Equipment has been grouped by organisational unit and allocated across service groups applying different percentages to that used in the statement of comprehensive income. The finance lease for Police Headquarters has been based on floor space and spread across service groups accordingly. Other assets and liabilities have generally been allocated similarly to the line items in the statement of comprehensive income, except where specific material items can be specifically identified to a specific service group. Cash and cash equivalents cannot be reliably allocated across service groups and are shown as "not attributable".

(p) Comparative information

Except when an Australian Accounting Standard permits or requires otherwise, comparative information is presented in respect of the previous period for all amounts reported in the financial statements.

(q) Changes in accounting policy, including new or revised Australian Accounting Standards

(i) Effective for the first time in 2014-15

The accounting policies applied in 2014-15 are consistent with those of the previous financial year except as a result of the following new or revised Australian Accounting Standards that have been applied for the first time in 2014-15:

- AASB 10 Consolidated Financial Statements
- AASB 1055 Budgetary Reporting
- AASB 2015-7 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Fair Value Disclosures of Not-for-Profit Public Sector Entities.

The impact of these Standards in the period of initial application includes:

- AASB 10 Consolidated Financial Statements - NSW Police Force has considered the guidance in AASB 10 in conjunction with the Implementation Guidance for Not-for-Profit entities with respect to the Crown Trust Fund (Note 24). NSW Police Force does not have control of the Crown Trust Fund and as a result no consolidated financial statement is required.
- AASB 1055 Budgetary Reporting – Requires disclosure of the original budgeted financial statements as presented to Parliament. NSW Police Force has assessed the impact of AASB 1055 and complied accordingly. Prior years budget disclosures were realigned between “grants and subsidies” and “employee related expense” to reflect the correct classification of expenses.
- AASB 2015-7 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Fair Value Disclosures of Not-for-Profit Public Sector Entities – Note 12(c) is consistent with the amendments. The quantitative information about the significant unobservable inputs used in fair value measurements and the sensitivity of certain fair value measurements to changes in unobservable inputs are no longer disclosed.

(ii) Issued but not yet effective

NSW public sector entities are not permitted to early adopt new Australian Accounting Standards, unless Treasury determines otherwise.

The following new Australian Accounting Standards have not been applied and are not yet effective.

- AASB 9, AASB 2010-7, AASB2013-9 (Part C), AASB 2014-1(Part E), AASB 2014-7 and AASB 2014-8 regarding financial instruments
- AASB 14 and AASB 2014-1 (Part D) regarding Regulatory Deferral Accounts
- AASB 15 and AASB 2014-5 regarding Revenue from Contracts with Customers
- AASB 1056 Superannuation Entities
- AASB 2014-3 regarding accounting for acquisitions of interest in joint operations
- AASB 2014-4 regarding acceptable methods of depreciation and amortisation
- AASB 2014-6 regarding bearer plants
- AASB 2014-9 regarding equity method in separate financial statements
- AASB 2014-10 regarding sale or contribution of assets between and investor and its associate or joint venture
- AASB 2015-1 regarding annual improvements to Australian Accounting Standards 2012-2014 cycle
- AASB 2015-2 regarding amendments to AASB 101 disclosure initiatives
- AASB 2015-3 regarding materiality
- AASB 2015-5 regarding investment entities
- AASB 2015-6 regarding related party disclosure to Not-for-Profit Public Sector Entities

While the impact of these standards in the period of initial application has not been specifically quantified, they are not expected to materially impact the financial statements.

6. SERVICE GROUPS OF NSW POLICE FORCEService group 39.1 – Community Support

Service Description: This service group covers the provision of effective, timely and flexible 24 hour response to incidents, emergencies and public events. It also includes reduction of incentives and opportunities to commit crime, the provision of a highly visible police presence, and liaison/partnerships with the community and Government organisations concerned with maintaining peace, order and public safety.

Service group 39.2 – Criminal Investigation

Service Description: This service group covers the detection and investigation of crime, the provision of forensic services and provides for the arrest of or other relevant action in respect of offenders. It also includes specialist activities to target organised criminal activities and criminal groups, maintenance of forensic databases and criminal records, and liaison with other law enforcement agencies.

Service group 39.3 – Traffic and Commuter Services

Service Description: This service group covers the patrol of roads, highways and public transport corridors, the investigation of major vehicle crashes, the detection of traffic and transport offences (particularly those involving alcohol or drugs and speed), and the supervision of peak traffic flows. It also includes liaison/partnerships with community and Government bodies concerned with road safety, traffic management and public transport.

Service group 39.4 – Judicial Support

Service Description: This service group covers judicial and custodial services, the prosecution of offenders, the presentation of evidence at court, including coronial enquiries, the provision of police transport and custody for people under police supervision, and the provision of a high level of support to victims and witnesses.

NSW Police Force had the following banking facilities as at 30 June 2015:

- Bank guarantee authority of $0.5 million ($0.5 million in 2013-14). This authority enables NSW Police Force to provide bank guarantees to its suppliers on a need basis. There were no bank guarantees issued as at 30 June 2015 (Nil in 2013-14).
- MasterCard facility of $7.5 million ($7.5 million in 2013-14), which is the total of the credit limit for all issued credit cards and purchase cards. Total amount of credit unused as at 30 June 2015 was $2.3 million ($2.6 million in 2013-14).
- Letter of credit facility of $2.0 million ($2.0 million in 2013-14). Total amount of letter of credit facility unused as at 30 June 2015 was $2.0 million ($2.0 million in 2013-14).
- Offset accounts facility of $0.05 million ($0.05 million in 2013-14). This facility allows bank fees incurred during the month to be debited to a temporary debit account, which are then transferred to the NSW Police Force main operating bank account the following month. Total amount of offset accounts facility unused as at 30 June 2015 was $0.04 million ($0.04 million in 2013-14).

(b) Valuation techniques, input and processes

For each class of property, plant and equipment, a description of the valuation technique applied and the inputs used in the fair value measurement is disclosed in the table below.

For the valuation processes refer Note 1(i)(iii).

Class	Valuation Technique	Key inputs
Land and buildings
Land and residential buildings	Market approach – land is valued based on comparable property sales transactions and where identical properties are not available, adjustments have been made to reflect the following characteristics of the asset: location, topography, construction, age, condition, size, legal/physical restrictions, and enhancements. These assets are classified as Level 3 as the adjustments made to the observable data of comparative properties are considered significant and require judgement to be exercised by the valuer.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Comparable property sales values - Adjustments for location, topography, construction, age, condition, and size - Adjustments for restrictions or enhancements

(b) Valuation techniques, input and processes (continued)

Land and buildings
Police stations, combined police stations and residences and other specialised buildings (including heritage assets)	Cost approach – specialised buildings are valued based on the current replacement cost of the most appropriate modern equivalent replacement facility having a similar service potential to the existing asset. These assets are classified as Level 3 as the estimated construction costs are considered a significant adjustment to the observable data of comparable properties.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Estimated construction costs for customisation. - Depreciation rate / useful life.
Plant and equipment
Aviation assets	Market approach – Aviation assets are valued based on secondary market evidence with allowance made for certain elements of the air fleet including engine overhauls or replacements, paint scheme, location, law enforcement equipment, and design modifications. These assets are classified as Level 3 as the allowance for the above elements are considered a significant adjustment to the observable data of the secondary market transactions.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Secondary market data. - Adjustments for engine overhauls or replacements, paint scheme, location, law enforcement equipment, and design modifications.
Marine assets	Cost approach – Specialised assets are valued based on the cost to replace the asset with a new asset, an estimate of the residual value and depreciation. Market approach – Non specialised assets are valued based on secondary market evidence.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Cost of new replacement assets. - Residual value. - Depreciation rate / useful life. - Secondary market data. - Depreciation rate / useful life.

There has been no change in the valuation technique in the current year. The highest and best use of the asset is its current use.

For each class of property, plant and equipment, a description of sensitivity of fair value measurement to changes in unobservable inputs is disclosed in the table below.

Class	Unobservable inputs	Sensitivity to fair value measurement to changes in unobservable inputs
Land and buildings
Land and residential buildings	Positive and negative adjustments for location, topography, construction, age, condition, and size. These adjustments are made by the external valuer and require judgement to be exercised by the external valuer.	Significant increases/ (decreases) in the positive adjustments or decreases / (increases) in the negative adjustments would result in significantly higher / (lower) fair value of the asset.
Police stations, combined police stations and residences and other specialised buildings (including heritage assets)	The estimated construction costs for customisation make up the total value of the asset. The remaining useful life is in the range of 3 to 58 years.	Significant increases/ (decreases) in estimated construction costs or useful life would result in a significantly higher / (lower) fair value of the asset.
Plant and equipment-revalued as at 30 June 2014; next valuation due 30 June 2017
Aviation assets	Adjustments for engine overhauls or replacements, paint scheme, location, law enforcement equipment and design modifications.	Significant increases/ (decreases) in the positive adjustments or decreases / (increases) in the negative adjustments would result in significantly higher / (lower) fair value of the asset.
Marine assets	Specialised assets: The estimated replacement cost make up the total value of the asset.	Significant increases/ (decreases) in estimated replacement cost, residual value, or useful life would result in a significantly higher / (lower) fair value of the asset.
	Non-specialised assets: Adjustments for design modifications to the asset.	Significant increases/ (decreases) in the positive adjustments or remaining useful life or significant decreases / (increases) in the negative adjustments would result in significantly higher / (lower) fair value of the asset.

Included in the current assets are the following restricted assets:
Death and Disabilities Scheme Monies	12,139	20,440
	12,139	20,440

The monies for the death and disability scheme are received from NSW Treasury and through police officers' employee contributions. These funds are applied exclusively in the use of death and disability related payments only.

The NSW Treasury currently underwrites the unfunded liabilities arising from the NSW Police's death and disability scheme. Supplementation to the recurrent budget is sought and approved by NSW Treasury to meet unfunded costs of the scheme.

The restricted assets are included in cash at bank in Note 7.

19. CONTINGENT LIABILITIES AND CONTINGENT ASSETS
(a) Contingent Liabilities
Contingent liabilities comprise civil matter claims that have been made against the NSW Police Force. The contingent liabilities are estimates from the NSW Police Force's legal advisers. The prospects of success or otherwise of each claim will become certain only when all the evidence is available, which usually is just before hearing. The vast majority of settlements, if the claimant is successful, will be met by NSW Treasury Managed Fund.	114,681	104,353
(b) Contingent Assets
The NSW Police Force entered into a lease for the NSW Police Force Headquarters at Parramatta. As part of the conditions of the lease term, the Lessor agrees that, on the fifteenth anniversary of the lease (1 June 2019), it will deposit $6 million (expressed as a nominal amount) in an account in its name. The NSW Police Force may, at any time after the deposit of the funds until 31 May 2024, request that the Lessor carry out refurbishment work to the premises in accordance with the NSW Police Force's request, up to maximum value of $6 million plus any interest accrued in the account from 1 June 2019.	6,000	6,000

20. BUDGET REVIEWNet result

The actual net result was unfavourable to budget by $58 million.

This result was mainly due to the following factors:

- A net increase in police wages, including variations in authorised strength and increments, of $15 million;
- An increase in employee benefits accepted by the Crown Entity of $29 million;
- The outcome of a triennial review with an increase in on costs on Long Service Leave of $14 million;
- Increases in a range of other operating expenses totalling $32 million, including property maintenance, employee subsistence allowances, property rental, motor vehicle insurance hindsight, legal fees, radio tower license fees and software maintenance;
- An offsetting saving of $21 million in depreciation charges resulting from changes to the capital program;
- Increased revenues of $16 million from seconded officer charge outs, user pays and other charges;
- An offsetting increase in revenues for the Crown Entity expenses listed above of $29 million; and
- A reduction in Capital Grants of $26 million associated with the rephasing of Capital Works cashflows to the 2015-16 and 2016-17 financial years.

Assets and liabilities:

Total current assets increased by $28 million compared to budget, mainly due to increases in cash and cash equivalents of $30 million and net receivables of $3 million, offset by decrease in permanent and partial disability self insurance gross recoveries of $5 million.

Non-current assets decreased by $5 million over budget mainly due to the following factors:

- A reduction in non-current 2005 Award permanent and partial disability self insurance gross recoveries of $23 million.
- A $10 million decrease in intangible assets.
- Offset by $4 million increase in land and buildings flowing from annual property revaluations and net $24 million increase in plant and equipment flowing from revaluation and acquisitions.

Total liabilities increased by $40 million compared to budget, mainly due to increase in other employee related provisions of $81 million, offset by decrease in payables of $4 million and a reduction in the permanent and partial disability self insurance provision of $26 million.

Cash flows:

Net cash flows from operating activities decreased by $44 million compared to the budget.

This is mainly due to the following:

- A cash reduction of $26 million resulting from the rephasing of Capital Grants to future years;
- An offsetting improvement of $29 million in permanent and partial disability self insurance gross recoveries;
- Movements of $15 million in police wages to budget; and
- Maintenance and workings expense variations to budget.

26. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The NSW Police Force's main risks arising from financial instruments are outlined below, together with the NSW Police Force's objectives, policies and processes for measuring and managing risk. The NSW Police Force does not enter into or trade financial instruments, including derivative financial instruments, for speculative purposes. Further quantitative and qualitative disclosures are included throughout this financial statement.

The Commissioner of Police has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of risk management and reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks. Risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risks faced by the NSW Police Force, to set risk limits and controls and to monitor risks. Compliance with policies is reviewed by the Risk Management and Audit Committee.

¹ Excludes statutory receivables and prepayments (i.e. not within scope of AASB 7).

² Excludes statutory payables and unearned revenue (i.e. not within scope of AASB 7).

(b) Credit risk

Credit risk arises when there is the possibility that the counterparty will default on their contractual obligations, resulting in financial loss to the NSW Police Force. The maximum exposure to credit risk is generally represented by the carrying amount of the financial assets (net of any allowance for impairment).

Credit risk arises from the financial assets of the NSW Police Force including cash and receivables. No collateral is held by the NSW Police Force. The NSW Police Force has not granted any financial guarantees.

Cash

Cash comprises cash on hand and bank balances within the NSW Treasury Banking System, and the Brookfield Global Integrated Solutions Trust 6 Account.

Interest is earned on daily bank balances of the NSW Police Force Main Operating Account at the monthly average NSW Treasury Corporation (TCorp) 11am unofficial cash rate, adjusted for a management fee to NSW Treasury.

Receivables - trade and other debtors

All trade debtors and other debtors are recognised as amounts receivable at balance date. Collectability of trade debtors is reviewed on an ongoing basis. Procedures as established in the Treasurer's Directions are followed to recover outstanding amounts, including letters of demand. Debts which are known to be uncollectible are written off. An allowance for impairment is raised when there is objective evidence that the reporting entity will not be able to collect all amounts due. This evidence includes past experience, and current and expected changes in economic conditions and debtor credit ratings. No interest is earned on trade debtors. Sales are generally made on 30 day terms.

The NSW Police Force is not materially exposed to concentrations of credit risk to a single trade debtor or group of debtors. Based on past experience, debtors that are not past due ($16.337 million 2014-15 and $28.447 million in 2013-14) and debts that are past due but not considered impaired ($5.999 million in 2014-15 and $2.439 million in 2013-14) in accordance with NSW Police Forces' policy together represent 85% of the total debtors.

Notes:

- Each column in the table reports 'gross receivables'.
- The ageing analysis excludes statutory receivables, as these are not within the scope of AASB 7 and excludes receivables that are not past due and not impaired. Therefore, the 'total' will not reconcile to the receivables total recognised in the statement of financial position.

26. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)(c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that NSW Police Force will be unable to meet its payment obligations when they fall due. The NSW Police Force continuously manages risk through monitoring future cash flows to ensure adequate cash is available to meet its payment obligations.

The main source of credit standby arrangements available to the NSW Police Force is advances from NSW Treasury. Advances are requested from NSW Treasury on a need basis and are repaid by way of reduction in the recurrent grants from the Justice Cluster's Principal Department, the Department of Justice. Credit card facilities are also in operation within the NSW Police Force. The risks associated with credit cards are minimised through credit card policy including transactional and monthly limits. In addition, credit card usage is monitored by independent officers within the NSW Police Force.

During the current and prior years, there were no defaults or breaches on any loans payable. No assets have been pledged as collateral. The NSW Police Force's exposure to liquidity risk is deemed insignificant based on prior periods' data and current assessment of risk.

Liabilities are recognised for amounts due to be paid in the future for goods or services received, whether or not invoiced. Amounts owing to suppliers (which are unsecured) are settled in accordance with the policy set out in NSW TC 11/12. For small business suppliers, where terms are not specified, payment is made not later than 30 days from date of receipt of a correctly rendered invoice. For other suppliers, if trade terms not specified, payment is made no later than the end of the month following the month in which an invoice or a statement is received. For small business suppliers, where payment is not made within the specified time period, simple interest must be paid automatically unless an existing contract specifies otherwise. For payments to other suppliers, the Head of an authority (or a person appointed by the Head of an authority) may automatically pay the supplier simple interest. The rate of interest applied during the year was 10.36% (2014 – 10.63%).

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the entity's financial liabilities, together with the interest rate exposure.

		299,799	211,697	-	88,102	106,489	81,667	111,643

Notes

1. Payables exclude income received in advances and statutory taxes.
2. The amounts disclosed are the contractual undiscounted cash flows of each class of financial liabilities and therefore will not reconcile to the statement of financial position.

(d) Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. In the absence of any borrowings with variable interest rates or Hour Glass Investment Facilities, the NSW Police Force's exposure to market risk is considered minimal.

Foreign exchange rate risk

The NSW Police Force has a Foreign Exchange Risk Policy which applies to purchases in foreign currency greater than $250,000. The objective of this policy is to minimise the exposure of foreign currency risk to meet the budget forecast. Therefore, the NSW Police Force has minimal exposure to market risk or foreign currency risk and does not enter into commodity contracts.

The NSW Police Force had no foreign currency contracts outstanding at year end.

(d) Market risk (continued)

The effect on profit and equity due to a reasonably possible change in risk variable is outlined in the information below for interest rate risk. A reasonably possible change in risk variable has been determined after taking into account the economic environment in which the NSW Police Force operates and the time frame for the assessment (i.e. until the end of the next annual reporting period). The sensitivity analysis is based on risk exposures in existence at the statement of financial position date. The analysis is performed on the same basis for 2013-14. The analysis assumes that all other variables remain constant.

Interest rate risk

Exposure to interest rate risk arises primarily through the NSW Police Force's interest bearing liabilities. The risk is minimal as the most significant financial liability, the finance lease, has a fixed interest rate predetermined at the inception of the lease and remains fixed for the entire term of the lease. Therefore for this financial instrument, a change in interest rates would not affect profit or loss or equity. A reasonably possible change of +/-1% is used, consistent with current trends in interest rates (based on the RBA commonwealth bond rate as at the balance date over the last two years). The basis will be reviewed annually and amended where there is a structural change in the level of interest rate volatility.

The NSW Police Force's exposure to interest rate risk is set out below:

		-1%		+1%
	Carrying amount $'000	Net result $'000	Equity $'000	Net result $'000	Equity $'000

Borrowings	155,046	-	-	-	-
Other liabilities	610	6	6	(6)	(6)

Other price risk

Exposure to other price risk primarily arises through the investment in the TCorp Hour Glass Investment facilities. The NSW Police Force does not have investment in these facilities. Therefore the NSW Police Force has no exposure to other price risk.

26. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

(e) Fair Value Measurement

(i) Fair value compared to carrying amount

Financial instruments of the NSW Police Force are generally recognised at cost or amortised cost in the statement of financial position, which approximates to fair value because of the short term nature of many of these financial instruments.

(ii) Fair value recognised in the statement of financial position

No financial assets or financial liabilities were measured at fair value in the statement of financial position.

27. EVENTS AFTER THE REPORTING PERIOD

At the date of signing, there were no events subsequent to the reporting period which would have a material effect on the NSW Police Force's financial statements.

^{tt} Dismissal orders are served on constables appointed on probation. Dismissal orders made under section 80(3) of the Police Act 1990 can be the subject of review by the Industrial Relations Commission. This may result in a variation in the recording of the method of separation from the NSW Police Force.

^l Removal orders are served on confirmed police officers. Removal orders made under section 181D of the Police Act 1990 can be the subject of review by the Industrial Relations Commission. This may result in a variation in the recording of the method of separation from the NSW Police Force. The date of the removal of an officer under section 181D is the date the Commissioner signs that order. However for entitlement calculations the date of service of the order is used.

People with a disability	N/A	1.1%	1.0%	0.9%
People with a disability requiring work-related adjustment	1.5%	0.3%	0.2%	0.2%

Note: The benchmarks or targets above are set by the Public Service Commission to apply to all NSW Public Service agencies. They are based on the proportion of each group to the New South Wales population. However, no benchmark has been set for the employment of people with a disability. The NSW Police Force has set a further internal target of 4% for the employment of Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders.

Distribution index³

EEO target group	Benchmark or target	2013	2014	2015
Women	100	94	95	94
Aboriginal people & Torres Strait Islanders	100	92	89	89
People whose first language was not English	100	93	94	95
People with a disability	100	103	102	102
People with a disability requiring work related adjustment	100	104	104	104

Source: NSW Department of Premier & Cabinet, Public Sector Workforce Profile 2015

1. Staff numbers are as at 30 June 2015.

2. Excludes casual staff.

3. A distribution index of 100 indicates that the centre of the distribution of the EEO group across salary levels is equivalent to that of other staff. Values less than 100 mean that the EEO group tends to be more concentrated at lower salary levels than is the case for other staff. The more pronounced this tendency is, the lower the index will be. In some cases the index may be more than 100, indicating that the EEO group is less concentrated at lower salary levels.

Workforce diversity strategies

Workforce diversity strategies (including equal employment opportunity) underpin all aspects of human resource management; creating a safe and healthy work environment that values and utilises the contribution of its employees from diverse backgrounds and experiences.

The Workforce Equity & Diversity Strategic Plan 2012-16 sets out how the NSW Police Force promotes a fair, safe and inclusive work environment that accommodates differences in background and the family responsibilities of its employees.

A number of initiatives were implemented and or progressed during the reporting period. They included:

- establishment of an inter-command forum on discrimination, harassment and bullying. The terms of reference includes oversight of strategic approaches to discrimination, harassment and bullying within the NSW Police Force to ensure safe, healthy workplaces
- review of the Harassment, Discrimination & Bullying Policy to ensure it reflects contemporary workforce issues
- development of workshops relating to respectful communication in the workplace, managing workplace conflict and recognising unconscious bias to support a positive work environment
- streamlining systems and processes relating to discrimination, harassment and bullying matters, and improvements to data capture monitoring and reporting capabilities around discrimination, harassment and bullying matters
- initiating a project on building and maintaining a positive workplace culture within the NSW Police Force
- hosting a forum with key internal and external stakeholders on building respectful workplace behaviours
- continuing the development of the Flexible Work Practices Guide, Part Time Work Policy and supporting tools for commanders and managers
- continuing support to women through the My Mentor Program, which was delivered by the NSW Police Force. Also introduced was the My Mentor Embed Program, which was delivered to 20 women who have already undertaken the My Mentor Program
- developed and implemented a new Women in Policing Strategic Plan 2015-18 to improve the recruitment, retention and development opportunities for women in the NSW Police Force
- continuing to support the Ready, Willing & Able disability employment program.

APPENDIX 3: Disability Plans

The NSW Police Force has been participating in the Disability Inclusion Action Planning process for NSW Government agencies. The Corporate and Region Sponsors for Vulnerable Communities have been active in engaging communities and disability sector stakeholders. Projects and activities designed to improve accessibility and inclusiveness, include:

- the development of key pages of the NSW Police Force website in audio for people with visual impairment, and Auslan (Australian sign language) for the deaf and hearing impaired
- liaison with the Autism Community Network regarding police engagement with people on the Autism Spectrum
- a partnership with Guide Dogs NSW/ACT to develop an access rights card for vision impaired people in public places and transport
- participation by the NSW Police Force's policy and project staff in pilot disability awareness training for the NSW Government sector
- awareness and consideration training for police investigating domestic and family violence where the victim/offenders/witnesses may have a disability, in particular cognitive impairment.

The NSW Police Force is also represented on a number of committees, including:

- Criminal Justice Support Network Defender Capacity & Apprehended Violence Orders for People with Cognitive Impairment
- Family & Community Services and Australian Human Rights Commission Disability Rights Education Training & Awareness Program
- Justice Cluster National Disability Insurance Scheme Transition Planning
- Disability Inclusion Action Planning.

The NSW Police Force also endorsed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Public Guardian NSW and Ambulance Service of NSW regarding coercive accommodation functions when executing guardianship orders.

APPENDIX 4: Multicultural Policies

NSW Police Force Multicultural Policies & Services Forward Plan 2011-2014

The NSW Police Force Priorities for Working in a Culturally, Linguistically & Religiously Diverse Society and Multicultural Policies & Services Forward Plan 2011-14 complies with the NSW Principles of Multiculturalism as required by Multicultural NSW and Principles of Multiculturalism Act 2000.

In consultation with Multicultural NSW, the NSW Police Force continues to operate under this plan until the 2016-20 plan is developed. This will align our multicultural planning with the next NSW Police Force Corporate Plan. Internal and external consultations are scheduled for 2015-16.

The current plan takes into account the diversity of the community in which the NSW Police Force operates with a particular focus on how this diversity impacts our core business. The plan contains six broad priority areas that are linked to and support operational policing priorities. Each of these priorities outlines our commitments, responsibilities and performance indicators for achieving NSW Police Force objectives for working with culturally, linguistically and religiously diverse backgrounds. They are:

1. Targeted programs to reduce and prevent crime: Increase the capacity and confidence of communities from diverse linguistic, cultural and religious backgrounds to work with police to report crime and contribute to reducing the rates of crime and violence in the broader community.
2. Working with victims, witnesses, offenders and communities from diverse cultural, linguistic and religious backgrounds: Barriers to the accessibility of services for people from culturally, linguistically and religiously diverse backgrounds are identified, and programs and services are developed to address them.
3. Community consultation and participation: Policy development and service delivery is informed by agency expertise and by client feedback and complaints, and participation on advisory boards and significant committees.
4. Staff capacity building and support: The capacity of the agency is enhanced by the employment and training of people with linguistic and cultural expertise.
5. Operational planning and capacity: Multicultural policy goals are integrated into the overall corporate and business planning, as well as the review mechanisms of the NSW Police Force.
6. Leadership and accountability: Chief executive officers and senior managers actively promote and are accountable for the implementation of the Principles of Multiculturalism within the NSW Police Force and the wider community.

Frontline commands with significantly diverse populations have local Multicultural Policies & Services Programs (MPSP) with specific strategies under each priority area. Local multicultural community liaison officers (MCLOs) support police and help build strong community relations. They provide assistance with victim support information and crime prevention projects in partnership with local community agencies and other specialist liaison officers.

Major highlights for 2014-15

Communicating effectively with diverse populations is an important part of our work with victims, witnesses, offenders and communities. Major highlights included:

- We produced a video It's Your Time to Be Heard, preparing women victims of domestic and family violence for court. It was translated into Arabic, Korean, Mandarin and Vietnamese.
- The Multicultural Community Liaison Officer (MCLO) information brochure was translated into 40 community languages. It's available for download from the NSW Police Force website www.police.nsw.gov.au.
- A series of short crime prevention messages was broadcast on the NSW Police Force website, YouTube, Facebook and Twitter. Topics included protect yourself from ice, protect yourself online, protect your debit/credit cards and protect yourself against scammers. They were also posted as tip sheets that were available in Arabic, simplified and modern Chinese, Croatian, Greek, Italian and Hindi.
- We partnered with the Australian Human Rights Commission to host the first National Forum on Diversity Training in Policing, attended by diversity trainers from police jurisdictions across Australia with the aim to establish what constitutes effective diversity training in policing.
- In the aftermath of the siege at the Lindt Cafe in Martin Place, police messages to the community about public safety were translated into 15 community languages.
- A multicultural media officer position was established within the Police Media Unit to strengthen relationships with ethnic media.

- Victims of Crime Fact Sheets were published in Easy English to support people with limited literacy skills and those for whom English is not their first language.
- Strategies to build staff capacity remain an important part of our multicultural strategies. Programs included:
 - developing diversity content for the recruit training program
 - delivering diversity training in specific courses including the Youth Officers Course, Domestic Violence Course, Crime Prevention Officers Course, Safe Custody Course
 - customising diversity training for specialist units such as the Disaster Victims Identification Unit, Business & Technology Services, Workforce Relations Equity Unit and the Operational Information Agency.
- Police engage with culturally and linguistically diverse communities every day through local, regional and statewide programs. The Commissioner's Police Multicultural Advisory Council (PMAC) continues to provide strategic advice to help deliver culturally responsive policing services. Our community engagement strategies help local police build productive relations with all communities.
- More than 30 MCLOs work with police across 25 local area commands.
- The Bias Crimes Unit helps police investigate and respond to bias motivated crimes. This financial year the unit delivered awareness training to police in the South West, Central and North West Metropolitan Regions.
- More than 40% of international students arriving in Australia each year study in New South Wales. The NSW Police Force embarked on a number of community engagement projects to improve the safety of these students, build rapport and create positive interactions between police and students. These included hosting:
 - a cricket tournament for international students in partnership with Study NSW, Multicultural NSW and eight universities
 - the quarterly Consular Corps meeting at the Sydney Police Centre in October 2014, involving consular representatives from all countries with a diplomatic presence in NSW. More than 90 countries were represented and discussed crime related issues.

Independent professional interpreters

For investigative and court purposes we use independent accredited interpreters when communicating with people who are not able to speak or understand English, or who are deaf or hearing impaired.

An agreement between the Multicultural NSW and the Department of Justice allows police to book interpreters for victims of domestic and family violence, and for all offenders on behalf of local courts for first court appearances and mentions.

APPENDIX 5: Government Information & Public Access

The NSW Police Force Information Access & Subpoena Unit administers and fulfils the NSW Police Force's obligations under the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009 (GIPA). The GIPA Act replaced the Freedom of Information Act 1989 on 1 July 2010. The total number of valid GIPA Act applications processed this reporting year was 5,443.

Note: Claims include all claims reported to the NSW Police Force insurer by sworn and non-sworn employees covered by the Workers Compensation Act 1987. Claims are reported per 100 full time equivalent employees (FTE). These FTE figures were obtained from the December 2014 wage declaration. Claim numbers are subject to minor revision in subsequent years as details of individual claims are updated. The mechanism of injury categories are based on the Types of Occurrence Classification System Version 3.1.

APPENDIX 7: Staff Drug & Alcohol Testing

Drug and alcohol testing supports a safe workplace

The NSW Police Force recognises the safety and integrity risks posed by the use of illegal drugs and alcohol by staff. An extensive drug and alcohol testing program is in place to identify and deter illegal drug use and inappropriate alcohol use.

Testing includes:

- random drug and alcohol testing of sworn officers
- random drug and alcohol testing of students of policing
- targeted drug, steroid and alcohol testing of sworn officers and students of policing
- mandatory testing for drugs and alcohol in circumstances required by legislation.

APPENDIX 8: Privacy & Personal Information

We recognise the importance of the protection and privacy of personal information

The NSW Police Force collects, holds, uses and discloses personal and health information about individuals on a daily basis.

The Privacy and Personal Information Protection (PPIP) Act 1998 and the Health Records and Information Privacy (HRIP) Acts to them and to provide members of the community with legally enforceable rights and safeguards about how government agencies, including the NSW Police Force, must deal with their personal and health information.

These Acts also provide police with a number of exemptions when exchanging personal information with other agencies or third parties for law enforcement or community protection purposes. We audit access to records held on the Computerised Operational Policing System (COPS), and all staff are required to abide by the Code of Best Practice for Information Management.

To guide NSW Police Force employees in the management of personal and health information of individuals, we created a Privacy Code of Practice and a Privacy Management Plan. These documents assist us in managing our responsibilities under the PPIP Act.

COPS is an extensive database used to capture, access and analyse crime information and intelligence. Personal details of the people police have contact with are kept on this database for investigative and intelligence purposes. Identifiers such as names and dates of birth, residential addresses and other contact details are kept to enable follow up inquiries.

De-identified information from COPS records is provided to the NSW Bureau of Crime Statistics & Research, Australian Bureau of Statistics and other agencies for crime statistics compilation.

During this reporting year eight applications for internal review were received under the provisions of Part 5 (section 53) of the PPIP Act. In the same period, five applicants sought external review by the NSW Civil & Administrative Tribunal pursuant to section 55 of the PPIP Act.

APPENDIX 9: Complaints against Police

We seek to improve our services as a result of complaints and consumer suggestions

There was a 2.2% decrease in the number of complaints against police officers received this reporting year. There was also a 6.3% decrease in the number of issues identified within these complaints over the period.

The NSW Police Force endeavours to resolve complaints quickly and efficiently. We have streamlined our complaints system and introduced informal processes to help resolve minor matters quickly. This reporting year more than 88% of complaints against police officers were either declined or resolved without formal investigation. We continue to focus on the release of complaint information in accordance with procedural fairness and government policy and our management systems emphasise remedial approaches to managing the conduct of police officers.

For further information about the extent and main features of the complaints we have received, refer to the table Issues raised in complaints received (on page 94).

In 2014-15 there were 4,887 complaints made against police officers. These contained 8,578 separate issues or allegations, 17% of which were sustained. These statistics are based on data extracted from c@ts.i at 3 July 2015 and include complaints from both NSW Police Force staff and members of the community. Previous year's figures are revised as new complaints are entered onto the system.

APPENDIX 10: Requests for Assistance

In this reporting period the NSW Police Force answered 93% of Triple Zero (000) calls within 10 seconds with an average answer time of six seconds. Calls to the Police Assistance Line (131 444) were answered in an average of 37 seconds per call. The number of contacts received is outlined in the chart below.

Note: These figures do not include phone calls or visits to police stations or interactions with frontline police. Decreases in calls from alarm monitoring companies are a result of changes to procedures between the NSW Police Force and alarm companies, including a direct access service freeing up Triple Zero (000).

APPENDIX 11: Significant Judicial Decisions

Glen Robinson v Commissioner of Police, NSW Police Force [2014] NSW Industrial Relations Commission 35

A Full Bench of the NSW Industrial Relations Commission upheld a first instance decision in favour of the NSW Police Force, dismissing a reinstatement application under section 241 of the Workers Compensation Act 1987 involving a police officer previously medically retired under section 72A of the Police Act 1990. The application for reinstatement was dismissed on the basis that Mr Robinson was deemed medically unfit to be reinstated. The Full Bench upheld these findings that Mr Robinson was not fit to perform the duties of a police officer. The Full Bench also confirmed that section 72A of the Police Act 1990 conveys a discretion on the Commissioner of Police to medically retire police officers.

Matthew Baker v Commissioner of Police [2015] NSW Industrial Relations Commission 14

Mr Baker was a sergeant of police working as a police prosecutor at the Downing Centre. Mr Baker was subject to a random drug and alcohol test, which returned a positive result for cocaine. Mr Baker admitted that he had used cocaine, but then exercised the privilege against self-incrimination to resist providing police with the identities of the person/s who had supplied him with the prohibited drugs. The Industrial Relations Commission was satisfied that Mr Baker lacked integrity, and that his failure to provide the identities of the supplier/s demonstrated a lack of insight into his obligations as a police officer, which rendered his removal appropriate.

APPENDIX 12: Legislative Changes

On 1 July 2014 the Crimes (Sentencing Procedure) Act 1999 was amended to enable evidence of the impact of the death of a family member to be a relevant consideration in determining an offender's sentence as it constitutes to the harm of the community. The amendments overrule the decision in Regina v Previtera (1997).

On 1 July 2014 the Road Transport (General) Regulation 2013 was amended to make the lane splitting motorcycle offence a penalty notice offence.

On 1 July 2014 the Road Transport (Driver Licensing) Regulation 2008 was amended to make the lane splitting motorcycle offence a three demerit point offence.

On 1 July 2014 the Road Rules 2008 was amended to make it an offence for a motorcycle rider to lane split at a speed exceeding 30 kilometres per hour and to enable certain motorcycle riders to lane filter between vehicles provided they do not exceed that speed.

On 4 July 2014 the Evidence (Audio and Audio Visual Links) Regulation 2010 was amended to enable an accused person being detained in the cells at Wollongong Police Station to appear by audio visual link for their bail proceedings. The amendments were required to address the temporary closure of the Wollongong Court for renovations.

On 18 July 2014 the Liquor Regulation 2008 was amended to prescribe further licence conditions for certain licensed premises in the Sydney CBD entertainment precinct and Kings Cross precincts and to ensure consistency between special licence conditions in those precincts. The amendments also restricted the hours during which passengers can board licensed vessels from, or disembark into, those precincts.

On 18 July 2014 the Passenger Transport Regulation 2007 was amended to extend the scheme for the pre-payment of taxi fares for night journeys originating at two Kings Cross taxi zones. The scheme now applies to a further seven taxi zones in and around the central business district of Sydney.

On 23 July 2014 the Road Transport Act 2013 was amended to provide that, for a person who is disqualified from holding a driver licence and sentenced to a term of imprisonment, the period of disqualification is served after the person is released from prison.

On 1 August 2014 the Road Transport (Driver Licensing) Regulation 2008 was amended to change the definition of high performance vehicle. It now includes vehicles with a power to weight ratio greater than 130 kilowatts per tonne, vehicles with certain modifications and certain other vehicles listed by the Roads & Maritime Services.

On 1 August 2014 the Crimes (Forensic Procedures) Regulation 2008 was repealed and remade with minor amendments as the Crimes (Forensic Procedures) Regulation 2014.

On 1 August 2014 the Rural Fires Regulation 2013 was amended to double the existing penalty amounts for offences under the Rural Fires Act 1997 and the Rural Fires Regulation 2013. The offence of discarding a lighted cigarette under section 99A was also prescribed as a penalty notice offence.

On 29 August 2014 the Smoke-free Environment Regulation 2007 was amended to enable police to commence proceedings for the offence of smoking in certain smoke-free areas relating to public transport (train and light rail platforms, ferry wharfs, bus stops and taxi ranks).

On 1 September 2014 the Graffiti Control Regulation 2009 was repealed and remade with no significant changes and is now called the Graffiti Control Regulation 2014.

On 1 September 2014 the Children (Protection and Parental Responsibility) Regulation 2008 was repealed and remade with minor changes into the Children (Protection and Parental Responsibility) Regulation 2014. It makes provisions in respect of services and protocols relating to the way functions conferred on police are to be exercised, and those records are to be made by police who remove children from public places and escort them to other places.

On 1 September 2014 the Children's Court Regulation 2009 was repealed and remade as the Children's Court Regulation 2014 with minor amendments.

On 17 September 2014 the Drug Court Act 1998 and the Crimes (Administration of Sentences) Act 1999 were amended to give effect to certain recommendations made by the Minister for Justice including in relation to when the Drug Court may revoke or vary an offender's compulsory drug treatment order.

On 1 October 2014 the Road Rules 2008, Road Transport (Driver Licensing) Regulation 2008 and the Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Regulation 2007 were amended to ban the use of power-assisted pedal cycles that have an internal combustion engine or engines. The amendments mean that the rider may be committing various offences unless they hold a valid class "R" riders licence, are wearing an approved motorcycle helmet and the power-assisted pedal cycle is registered.

On 23 October 2014 the Crimes (Forensic Procedures) Act 2000 was amended to retrospectively authorise police to carry out forensic procedures (being procedures that were carried out before 24 December 2013 by a police officer who had completed a training course in carrying out forensic procedures conducted by the NSW Police Force before carrying out that forensic procedure).

On 23 October 2014 the Drug Misuse and Trafficking Act 1985 was amended to make offences involving the manufacture, production, possession or supply of Schedule 9 substances summary offences and to provide that a person supplying what they purport (by writing, words or conduct) to be Schedule 9 substance is taken to have supplied a Schedule 9 substance.

On 23 October 2014 the Child Protection (Offenders Registration) Act 2000 was amended broadening Class 2 offences. Also, the time for an application for a child protection order was extended from 21 to 60 days. The Act now requires the registrable person to provide the details of any motor vehicles hired by them and any phone numbers used by them. The registrable person must also report any contact with children under certain circumstances. Registrable person reporting obligations are now seven days instead of 14 days. It is an offence for the registrable person to apply to change their name without first having obtained written approval of the Commissioner.

On 23 October 2014 the Criminal Procedure Act 1986 was amended to clarify that the local court can determine matters in the absence of the accused if it is satisfied that the accused person had reasonable notice of the first return date or subsequent mention date. Amendments were also made to remove the requirement that a court must obtain the consent of an accused person to the summary disposal of proceedings if a scientific examination certificate is tendered by the prosecution in the proceedings.

On 23 October 2014 the Inclosed Lands Protection Act 1901 was amended to create a new offence of entering an event venue during an organised event in contravention of a re-entry prohibition. The maximum penalty for the new offence is 10 penalty units.

On 23 October 2014 the Crimes Act 1900 was amended to make it an offence to possess a distress signal, or a distress flare, that operates by emitting a bright light in a public place without a reasonable excuse.

On 23 October 2014 the Graffiti Control Act 2008 was amended to enable offences under that Act to be commenced within two years of the alleged offence being committed. Proceedings for offences under the Act previously had to be commenced within six months.

On 29 October 2014 the Child Protection (Working with Children) Act 2012 was amended to make murder a disqualifying offence for the purpose of the Act.

On 1 November 2014 the Law Enforcement (Powers and Responsibilities) Act 2014 was amended simplifying the safeguard requirements that police must comply with when exercising certain powers. Generally, when exercising such powers police must, as soon as it is reasonably practicable to do so, provide the person with evidence that they are a police officer (unless they are in uniform); state name and place of duty and provide the reason for the exercise of the power. A 'validity clause' that provides protection if you fail to provide your name or place of duty has also been included.

On 1 December 2014 the remade Road Rules 2014 commenced, with minor changes to the provisions of the Road Rules 2008.

On 1 December 2014 the Road Transport Act 2013 was amended to grant a driver's licence that includes a boat licence under the Marine Safety Act 1998.

On 1 December 2014 the Road Transport Act 2013 was amended. It now provides that drivers who unlawfully park in disabled parking spaces will incur one demerit point.

On 28 January 2015 the Bail Act 2013 was amended to require bail for certain serious offences to be refused unless the accused person shows cause why his or her detention is not justified; to replace the two-step unacceptable risk assessment process with a one-step risk assessment; to provide that bail must be refused if there are any unacceptable risks; and to require additional matters to be considered by a bail authority in applying the unacceptable risk test.

On 1 February 2015 the following Acts and Regulations commenced: the Road Transport Amendment (Drug and Alcohol Testing) Act 2014, Marine Safety (General) Amendment (Drug and Alcohol Testing) Regulations 2014, Passenger Transport (Drug and Alcohol Testing) Amendment Regulation 2014, Rail Safety (Adoption of National Law) Amendment (Drug and Alcohol Testing) Regulation 2014, Road Transport (General) Amendment (Drug and Alcohol Testing) Regulation 2014. The legislation relates to the powers of police officers to require and direct a person to give a sample of their blood in accordance with those Acts and Regulations.

On 1 February 2015 the Road Transport Amendment (Mandatory Interlock Program) Act 2014 and the Road Transport (Driver Licensing) Amendment (Mandatory Alcohol Interlock Program) Regulation 2015 commenced. The amendments introduce an additional licensing regime to eligible offenders.

On 2 February 2015 the District Court Act 1973 was amended to require the District Court to permit the recording and broadcast of certain judgements given by the Court in open court unless satisfied that one of a limited number of exclusionary grounds is present.

On 6 February 2015 the Criminal Assets Recovery Regulation 2012 was amended to declare restraining orders made in relation to serious drug offences and in force under section 93M of the Criminal Proceeds Confiscation Act 2002 of Queensland or other orders made in relation to a restraining order in force under section 93T of that Act as interstate restraining orders for the purposes of the Criminal Assets Recovery Act 1990.

On 13 February 2015 the Child Protection (Offenders Registration) Regulation 2009 was amended to require a registrable person who does not generally reside at any particular premises to report as relevant personal information details that are sufficient to identify any places where they sleep on a regular basis (ie, more than once in any 14 day period). Such places may include the name and address of any refuge or shelter or any specific place such as a park or beach.

On 27 February 2015 the Security Industry Act 1997 was amended, revising the schedule of penalty notice offences.

On 5 March 2015 amendments under the Crimes (Domestic and Personal Violence) Amendment (Apprehended Personal Violence Orders) Regulation 2015 commenced. Applications for an apprehended personal violence order now include additional questions.

On 1 June 2015 the Criminal Procedure Act 1986 was amended to enable domestic violence complainants to give their evidence in chief by way of a prior recorded video or audio statement in criminal proceedings for a domestic violence offence.

On 29 June 2015 the Crimes Act 1900 was amended to make the offence of having sexual intercourse with a child who is under the age of 10 years punishable by a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

On 29 June 2015 the Crimes (Sentencing Procedure) Act 1999 was amended to establish standard non-parole periods for a number of serious child sex offences including sexual intercourse with a child 10-14 years, aggravated sexual intercourse with a child 10-14 years, aggravated sexual intercourse with a child 14-16 years and various grooming, procuring and child prostitution offences.

APPENDIX 13: Annual Report Production Costs

The 2014-15 NSW Police Force Annual Report was produced by the Public Affairs Branch. The total production cost was $1,500 (exclusive of GST). The Annual Report is available on the NSW Police Force website www.police.nsw.gov.au.

Note: Individual pursuits may have more than one reason recorded. Consequently, the sum of reasons is greater than the number of pursuits.

APPENDIX 16: Consultants

(a) Engagements costing $50,000 or greater:

Nil

(b) Engagements costing less than $50,000:

The consultants were engaged to assist with the following services:

- Business & Technology Services - Foresight Consulting. The cost was $27,200.00.
- Education & Training - Vivacity RTO Coaching & Consulting. The cost was $15,722.73.
- Education & Training - ACIL Allen Consulting. The cost was $14,804.97.
- Education & Training - Bespoke Capability Solutions. The cost was $4,800.00.

APPENDIX 17: Waste Reduction

We are reducing our impact on the environment

The NSW Police Force continues to work towards meeting the requirements of the NSW Government Resource Efficiency Policy.

Works undertaken across the property portfolio during the 2014-15 financial year focused on energy and water reduction. In addition, light bulbs, tubes and other forms of lighting were recycled after being replaced. Since the initiative commenced, in excess of 100kg of these items has been recycled.

Smart metering has been installed at the Sydney Police Centre, Hurstville Police Station and joint emergency tenancies, to provide staff with data to understand and improve building energy use.

TV screens placed within Police Headquarters, Parramatta, and the Sydney Police Centre foyer communicate real time energy and water use. This raises awareness about efficiencies and encourages users to consider the impact of their actions and their use of energy has.

Major construction works conducted this financial year, such as the development of the new Liverpool and Riverstone Police Stations, have all taken significant measures to reduce landfill. Wherever possible construction waste such as brick, steel, concrete and woodwork has been recycled, contributing to approximately 800 tonnes of waste being recycled and landfill avoided.

Local contractors engaged on behalf of the NSW Police Force throughout the state are actively encouraged to promote the reduction of emissions created from transport, by delivering goods with reduced packaging when possible.

Green vehicle management

In keeping with the government's commitment to providing efficient resource management, we have implemented policies and management initiatives that contribute to the overall green vehicle strategy. These included:

- actively engaging vehicle manufacturers to maintain an awareness of alternative fuel vehicle options
- where possible sourcing more efficient models with direct injection engine management systems and those that operate on ethanol and LPG green fuels
- where possible, using more economical four cylinder options without compromising operational capability
- evaluating emerging energy saving technologies and green rating prior to inclusion in the NSW Police Force fleet.

APPENDIX 19: Public Interest Disclosures

The Public Interest Disclosures Act 1994 sets in place a system to encourage public officials to report serious wrongdoing.

A public interest disclosure is a disclosure about suspected wrongdoing in the public sector. Allegations about wrongdoing in the public sector, by public sector workers and members of the public, help to uncover corruption and other misuses of public resources.

- The number of officers who made public interest disclosures this reporting year: 15
- The number of public interest disclosures received in total: 15
- The number of public interest disclosures received relating to:
 - (i) corrupt conduct 12
 - (ii) maladministration 2
 - (iii) serious and substantial waste of public money 1
 - (iv) government information contraventions 0
 - (v) the number of public interest disclosures finalised 15

2 Commentary

The new payment of accounts policy on the small business supplier payment of accounts performance disclosures became fully operational from 1 January 2012.

2(a) Problems affecting prompt processing of payments during the year:

- delays were experienced in the finalisation of accounts payable preparation by business units prior to work flowing back to Shared Services for payment. This was as a result of the announcements in relation to the realignment of local area commands
- the fundamental reasons for delay are the finalisation by business units in the processing function and disputes in connection with the correct rendering of valid tax invoices by suppliers, which includes discrepancies between orders, goods received and invoices
- work is continuing with business units and suppliers to improve the NSW Police Force's procure to pay systems and processes.

2(b) Initiatives implemented to improve payment performance:

- vendors are requested to supply bank details for payment by EFT as part of the ongoing initiative to reduce cheque printing and dispatch
- consolidation of multiple accounts from vendors where possible to improve payment processes and controls
- greater use of Purchase Card system in NSW Police Force. Purchase card transactions are excluded from this information
- discussions with major suppliers in 2014-15 to further automate the accounts payable process will result in further improvements in payment performances.

Credit Card Certification

The use of approved credit cards for payment of expenses, in accordance with official NSW Police Force business, is subject to Treasurer's Directions 205.08 of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983 and specific guidelines issued by the Premier from time to time.

The credit card facility available within the NSW Police Force is the Corporate Visa Card. The card is issued to approved persons for official business expenses. Most transactions using the card were for minor maintenance and working expenses, and overseas travel purposes.

The use of credit cards within the NSW Police Force for the period 2014-15 was satisfactory and has been in accordance with the Premier's Memoranda and Treasurer's Directions.

APPENDIX 21: Matters Arising from 2014-15 audit

There were no significant matters reported during the 2014-15 audit.

APPENDIX 22: Insurance Activities

Workers Compensation

The workers compensation insurance policy covers work place related injuries for all unsworn staff and all sworn officers recruited after 1st April 1988. For 2014-15, the workers compensation premium increased by 8.2%. This was due to increase in claims experience.

Public Liability

The public liability insurance policy covers all claims resulting from police activities for which the NSW Police Force is legally liable. For 2014-15, the premium increased by 11%. The premium increase was due to increase in claim numbers and costs of small claims.

Motor vehicle

The motor vehicle insurance policy covers damage to any vehicle used by NSW Police Force for authorised police operations and activities. For 2014-15, the motor vehicle premium increased by 13.4%. The premium increase was due to increase in claims costs and fleet size.

Property

The property insurance policy covers loss or damage to property (other than motor vehicle) owned, used, or in the control of the NSW Police Force. For 2014-15, the premium increased by 3.9%. The premium increase was due to increase in declared asset values and claims costs.

Miscellaneous

The miscellaneous insurance policy covers personal accident for volunteers, air travel and personal effects. The 2014-15 premium decreased by 35% which was due to decrease in claims costs and the pools contribution for the purchase of overseas travel insurance.

APPENDIX 23: Property Disposals

In 2014-15 the NSW Police Force sold 3 properties for a total of $0.539 million net.

Site	Proceeds $ million
36 Broadway Street, Junee	$0.183
28 Cloete Street, Young	$0.275
11 Wallowa Street, Leeton	$0.081

There were no properties disposed of which had a value of more than $5.0 million.

There were two buildings demolished and sites cleared to make way for a new police station, with a combined value of $0.187 million.

There was no family or business association between any of the buyers and the person responsible for approving disposal.

All properties disposed of were no longer suitable or were surplus to NSW Police Force requirements. All proceeds were retained by NSW Police Force and used for re-investment in new buildings.

All properties disposed of in 2014-15 were sold in accordance with government policy. Documents relating to property disposal may be accessed under the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009.

APPENDIX 24: Audits & Reviews

The NSW Police Force Risk Management & Audit Committee consists of an independent chair, an independent member and an executive member appointed by the Commissioner of Police.

The committee provides independent assurance to the Commissioner by overseeing and monitoring the NSW Police Force's governance, risk management, compliance and control frameworks, and its external accountability requirements. The committee reviews all internal and external audit reports and provides advice to the Commissioner on significant issues identified in the audit reports. The committee also monitors the implementation of audit recommendations.

The committee ensures all internal audit functions are consistent with the relevant standard, Institute of Internal Auditors International Standards for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing and any additional practice requirements set by the Internal Audit & Risk Management Policy.

NSW Police Force Internal Audit & Risk Management Statement for the 2014-15 financial year

I, Andrew Scipione, Commissioner of Police, am of the opinion that the NSW Police Force has internal audit and risk management processes in operation that are, in all material respects, compliant with the core requirements set out in Treasury Circular NSW TC 09/08 Internal Audit & Risk Management Policy.

I, Andrew Scipione, Commissioner of Police, am of the opinion that the Risk Management & Audit Committee for NSW Police Force is constituted and operates in accordance with the independence and governance requirements of Treasury Circular NSW TC 09/08. The chair and members of the Risk Management & Audit Committee are:

- Independent Chair, Mr Arthur Butler for a term of four years from January 2014.
- Independent Member, Ms Carol Holley for a term of four years from January 2014
- Non-independent Member, Deputy Commissioner David Hudson Corporate Services for a term of four years from November 2012.

A P Scipione APM
Commissioner of Police

INTERNAL AUDITS AND REVIEWS

Our Internal Audit & Review Unit provides an independent, objective assurance and advisory service to improve the organisation's operations. The unit reviews the administrative, financial, information and human resource management functions that support the delivery of core policing services.

The unit completed four audits and one consultancy for 2014-15 including:

- capital asset planning (strategic asset management framework) review
- access control framework
- asset management – minor and major capital works program
- information security management system – internal Information Security Management System (ISMS) audit stage one for 2014-15
- EFIMS (exhibits and forensic information management system) post implementation review.

The recommendations from these audits and consultations have resulted in improved compliance with legislation and our own guidelines, better accountability and improved internal controls to help achieve corporate objectives.

EXTERNAL AUDITS AND REVIEWS

During the year the Audit Office of NSW issued one performance audit report that was relevant to the NSW Police Force, Implementing Performance Audit Recommendations.

The aim of this audit was to assess agency processes for implementing performance audit recommendations. The key elements of the Audit Office's 'Better Practice Checklist for Monitoring and Reporting on Performance Audit Recommendations' were used to assess agencies' performance. The audit assessed whether agencies had effective processes in place for monitoring and implementing performance audit recommendations. The audit answered the following questions:

- do agencies have adequate processes for ensuring that performance audit recommendations are implemented?
- do agencies have adequate oversight processes in place to monitor and report on implementation?

The Audit Office sampled a number of agencies which had been subject to performance audits which included the NSW Police Force.

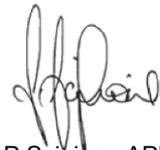

The report identified that this agency has sound processes in place to implement and monitor performance audit recommendations. Processes were more sophisticated in agencies that have been subject to more performance audits. Nonetheless, the Audit Office encouraged all agencies to review their practices in line with the Audit Office Better Practice Checklist. This will help to ensure that the benefits of performance audits are fully realised and support agencies' continuous improvement.

APPENDIX 25: Digital Information Security

I, Andrew Scipione, consider the NSW Police Force has had an Information Security Management System (ISMS) in place in 2014-15 that has met the core requirements of the Digital Information Security Policy for the NSW Public Sector. I consider the security controls in place to mitigate identified risks to the digital information and digital information systems of the NSW Police Force are adequate for the foreseeable future.

There is no agency under the control of the NSW Police Force that is required to develop an independent ISMS in accordance with the NSW Government Digital Information Security Policy.

The NSW Police Force has maintained compliance with ISO 27001 Information technology - Security techniques - Information security management systems - Requirements and independently reviewed by SAI Global Certification Services Pty Ltd during the 2014-15 financial year.

A P Scipione APM
Commissioner of Police

APPENDIX 26: Asset Purchase & Protection

The purchase of assets is undertaken under delegation from specific asset acquisition allocations and recorded in the Fixed Assets Register. For each asset, a description, serial number, cost and location by cost centre are recorded. Individual administrative units run monthly validation reports to verify the expenditure incurred and the assets purchased.

Asset audit listings at a cost centre level are available for review as required by managers. A physical audit of assets against the Fixed Assets Register is undertaken annually with a certificate provided by each administrative unit to the Chief Financial Officer. These certificates are available to the Auditor General during his audit of the NSW Police Force accounts.

APPENDIX 27: Productivity data

The "real recurrent expenditure for the NSW Police Force per person" for the year ended 30 June 2014 (the latest available data) was $443.

Average annual percentage change in real recurrent expenditure 2007-08 to 2013-14 for NSW Police Force is 1.8%.
